Defence Minister Supports Simonds

OTTAWA (CP)—Defence Minister Abbott announced today in the Commons that Lt. Gen. Guy Simonds, commander of the Canadian forces in the Netherlands, had acted on his own initiative in removing Maj. Douglas Macfarlane from the editorship of the army newspaper Maple Leaf, but that he (Mr. Abbott) supported the action.

He was replying to a question from Howard Green, P.C., Vancouver South.

Split Meat Tokens

REGINA (CP)—Meat-hungry Regina is flouting the existing rationing system by splitting meat tokens and passing them off on busy butchers, it was learned today. Two large meat markets said "doctored" tokens had been passed last week, and one reported a split disc had been passed Sept. 10.

Salmon Catch Up

ASTORIA, Ore. (AP)—This fall's salmon catch on the Columbia River has topped last year's, but will fall short of the 1939-44 average, industry men said today. Light receipts of Chinook, silverside and steelhead are being processed in canneries here. Officials predicted the pack of each species would be greater than last season's.

To Land Sept. 30

OTTAWA (CP)—The troopship Nieuw Amsterdam, bringing home more than 6,400 Canadian servicemen, will arrive in Halifax as scheduled about Sept. 29 or 30, an army spokesman said today, describing as incorrect a previous army report that the destination has been switched to Quebec.

Not Aiding Factions

SINGAPORE (Reuter)—Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten, Supreme Allied Commander in Southeast Asia, has instructed Japanese forces in Java, principal Dutch colony in the East Indies, not to hand over authority to any Java faction, it was understood here today.

The Japanese, whose forces still control Java five weeks after the official Japanese surrender, are believed to have asked S.E. A.C. headquarters for guidance after a Japanese republican faction had demanded to be put in authority.

Scores of Veterans Would Operate Taxis

Scores of B.C. war veterans, who through the training of the services became skilled mechanics and drivers, want to start taxi businesses on their discharge, Dr. W. A. Carrothers, chairman of the Public Utilities Commission, reported today on his return to Victoria from Winnipeg.

Dr. Carrothers was at Winnipeg for a three-day meet of motor carrier boards of the four western provinces. He served as chairman of the conference.

He said the conference discussed at length methods to protect the public and the servicemen, but announced that in B.C. each application would be dealt with on its individual merits.

No Interim Buses For Fairfield

There will be no interim bus transportation for the Fairfield-Gonzales district while the hearing and decision of the Court of Appeal on who is to have the running of the line is pending, Mayor Percy George was informed today by Hon. George Pearson, Provincial Secretary.

Mr. Pearson enclosed a memorandum from L. W. Patmore, acting chairman of the Public Utilities Commission, which stated that "the Public Utilities Commission has no power to make an interim order in the matter for temporary service while an appeal is pending before a Court of Appeal. The matter is out of our jurisdiction now; it is in the hands of the Court of Appeal."

Mayor George said that the answer, which came more than a week after he wrote suggesting that interim transportation be given the area, was "very annoying."

"I realize that Mr. Pearson cannot do otherwise," the mayor commented, "but I was in hopes that some way could be found to provide transportation for Fairfield-Gonzales area now that the wet season is approaching, and particularly as two companies have buses ready and waiting to give service. It seems absurd that a legal technicality should deny the people transportation."

Japs' Emperor To Pay Call On Gen. MacArthur

TOKYO (AP)—Well-informed Japanese sources said today that Emperor Hirohito has arranged to pay an unprecedented call on Gen. MacArthur at the latter's residence, the U.S. embassy building. No date was specified.

The decision on a meeting place of conqueror and conquered was reached at a recent conference between Gen. MacArthur and Admiral Fujita, Grand Chamberlain, these sources said.

Official confirmation was lacking, although a meeting between Gen. MacArthur and Hirohito long has been expected. If the Emperor goes to MacArthur's residence at the embassy, it would be the first time in modern history that any Japanese emperor has gone to another ruler for an audience.

NO ATOM EXPLOSION

The Allied High Command today blocked any atomic-bomb research in Japan, directed rigid control of Japanese economic life including wages, prices and all traffic in currencies and negotiable assets, and moved toward free Japanese press.

The news order directed the Imperial government to remove itself completely from direct or indirect control of newspapers and news agencies. Heretofore the ruling Japanese clique has almost completely controlled and directed news policies.

Stripping the Domei agency of its special privileges the order paves the way for establishment of new and truly free competing agencies.

CURRENCIES FROZEN

Two other far-reaching directives aimed at freezing traffic in currencies and other negotiable assets, to facilitate the task of "fingerprinting" Japan's assets at home and abroad.

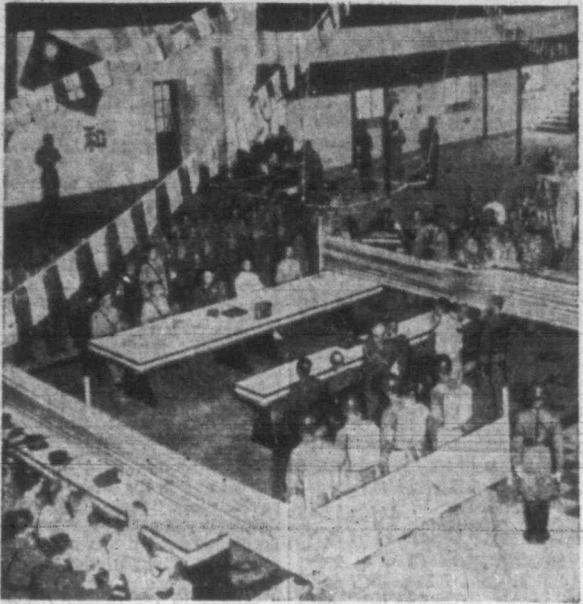

Prohibited are export or import of gold or silver coin; gold, silver and platinum bullion or currency; and securities, cheques, bank drafts, bills of exchange, powers of attorney, proxies and any evidence of indebtedness or evidence of property ownership not specifically exempted.

Britain, U.S. Agree On Export of Oil

LONDON (CP)—Conclusion of a tentative oil agreement covering the world-wide export of petroleum by British and U.S. oil companies was announced today.

The agreement provides for a proposed treaty which must be accepted by both governments to be effective. It would not be concerned with domestic oil production in the U.S. but sets forth the principle of equality of opportunity for nationals of both countries in exploration and development of oil concessions throughout the world.

Truman Drafts Recommendations To Congress On Atomic Energy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House disclosed today the President soon will submit to Congress his recommendations for the development and use of atomic energy.

Press Secretary Charles G. Ross told reporters the President "is not setting himself up as sole arbiter" of the future of the atomic bomb secret.

The President told reporters Sunday night that he was taking sole personal responsibility for administration policy on the use of atomic energy.

NO LONE HAND

Ross said he wanted to make it clear today that this did not mean he would play a lone hand. "The President will submit his recommendations to Congress," Ross said. "He is taking advice from the cabinet but his is the responsibility of deciding what the recommendations to Congress shall be. It is expected the recommendations will be sent to the hill fairly soon."

4 Dozen Pints Beer For October Ration

British Columbia permit holders during October may purchase four dozen pints of beer, may buy them in two lots and a surplus of bottled beer which has been built up will be turned over to veterans' clubs to make more beer available for returning servicemen.

Except for the four dozen beer instead of three during September, the ration is the same, W. F. Kennedy, chairman of the Liquor Control Board, announced today. October ration will include the 25-ounce bottle of gin, provided as a bonus last month.

The ration for October is as follows: One reputed quart of gin plus one 25-ounce bottle of spirits, or two reputed quarts of imported wine, or one gallon of domestic wine, or four dozen pints of beer.

Mr. Kennedy said he was not sure how much extra bottled beer will be available for the veterans' clubs, but indicated that it would be whatever surplus was available after beer purchases in the government liquor stores or by clubs.

Persons wishing to get their beer ration in two lots will have their monthly invoices punched on the first purchase and then turn them in on the second purchase.

New York Elevator Operators Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—Eleven thousand elevator operators and other maintenance workers in 975 mid-Manhattan office buildings went on strike at the start of the morning "rush hour" today.

Thousands of office workers laboriously climbed stairs, including those in the Empire State Building.

Smaller Stores Close Doors As Rationing Holds

From Canadian Press Dispatches

Meat dealers in several Canadian municipalities closed their doors today in protest against meat rationing, while in the Ontario cities of Toronto, London and Hamilton, retail dealers called a meeting for tonight to decide whether similar strike action would be taken.

In Montreal, gangs of men—estimated at from 100 to 200 strong—today toured the city of Montreal, entered butcher shops and forced meat merchants to close up or face the alternative of having their counters overturned and their stock ruined. Many independent butchers did not open today, in protest against the present meat rationing system and many of these joined in the groups that called on the other stores.

The manager of a large chain store in the northeast end of the city, said a mob of about 300 men crowded into his store and threatened to damage his stock if the entire establishment, including the grocery section, were not closed.

Meanwhile, city police threw a special guard around the St. James Street headquarters of the ration administration of the Prices Board after reports were circulated that 500 men would storm the premises.

Besides Montreal, some shops went on strike in Edmonton, Camrose and Lethbridge, Alta., and on Vancouver Island in the west. Similar action was taken by 30 dealers in Nova Scotia towns.

Ottawa Retailers Taking No Action

At Ottawa, President R. B. Cherry of the city's Retail Merchants' Association said he doubted there would be any strike today in the city. No meetings to deal with the situation had been called in Ottawa, he added.

Butchers of several New Brunswick communities, including Saint John, plan to strike tomorrow.

Commenting on tonight's meeting in Toronto, John King, president of the Toronto Retail Butchers' Association, said that "I know not more than 50 per cent of Toronto butchers would strike even if such action were endorsed, and if the remaining 50 per cent closed their stores on their own they would be committing financial suicide."

Although some half-dozen Edmonton shops closed, threats of a general strike today in Edmonton and Calgary did not materialize. All Calgary dealers opened as usual. Independent dealers in Lethbridge locked their doors, but chain stores remained open.

The strike action, arising out of butchers' dissatisfaction with the coupons and token rationing system introduced Sept. 10, comes at the end of two weeks of growing discontent and widespread protest.

Cig Five Foreign Ministers Seek Compromise On Balkan Treaties

By FLORA LEWIS

LONDON (AP)—The Big Five Council of Foreign Ministers sought in two successive meetings today to compromise conflicting views which have prevented essential agreement on peace treaties for Italy and the Balkan nations.

Diplomats familiar with the divergent views of the Russian and the British and U.S. delegations regard the sessions as decisive. One expressed it this way: "It generally is conceded that the discussions will determine largely whether the council should continue its efforts to solve its problems or seek other means to write the peace of Europe."

WATERWAYS PROBLEM

Europe's inland waterways and the immediate future of Austria were among problems to be solved.

Some observers already are predicting the council may be dissolved and another means found to write Europe's peace.

This view was reflected in an editorial today in the London Daily Mail which said: "It has become clear that the first meeting of the Council of Foreign Ministers has not succeeded. Be-

Crow's Nest Miners Want Double Amount

Word of a new development came Sunday night from Blairmore, Alta., where a meeting of 2,000 Crow's Nest Pass coal miners said they would go on strike Sept. 27 unless they are given a double ration of fresh meat and restrictions on such meats as bologna and ham are lifted.

Similar action was taken last week by about 2,000 Drumheller Valley coal miners. Their deadline also is Sept. 27.

Meat dealers in Calgary told reporters during the week-end that rationing was going fairly smoothly now in that city and as far as they knew no store would close in protest.

In Vancouver the removal of fancy meats from the ration list was regarded as the first step towards further revision, notably the ration for meat loaves, cooked and smoked sausages.

Chungking Denies Hirohito Report

CHUNGKING (AP)—The only Chungking radio making international English language broadcasts denied today it had broadcast any report that Emperor Hirohito had abdicated.

(The Federal Communications Commission in Washington had recorded a broadcast it said originated in Chungking, announcing Hirohito's abdication.)

Helen Liu, in charge of English language broadcasts over station XGOY, suggested it may have been a hoax, or a misunderstanding—or that the source may have been some other station not in Chungking.

The Central China News agency also was unaware of such a report, but pointed out there had been some speculation on a possible abdication.

Should a young wife be practical about money matters?

"Of course I'm practical about money matters... I have to be! I may not understand high finance, but I am the one who must budget the home expenditures... It's my job to stretch the dollars to feed and clothe a growing family."

"That is why I look upon my husband's Life Insurance as a joint responsibility—his and mine. If I should ever lose him, it is the children and I who would suffer without an income to replace his earnings."

"So we plan our Life Insurance together to provide an income that we agree would be necessary for me in case of need. His responsibility is to earn money... mine is to see that some of it is made available to meet the premiums as they fall due."

"If I had not been willing to play my part, my husband would have found it impossible to provide the financial protection that our family needs."

Maple Leaf Editor Removed For Criticizing Repatriation Policy

By WILLIAM BOSS

AMSTERDAM (CP) — Lieut. Ed Ingraham of Sydney, N.S., and Saskatoon, assistant editor of the Northwest Europe edition of the Maple Leaf, Canadian Army newspaper, said today he had "resigned on principle" following the removal of the editor, Maj. J. Douglas Macfarlane of Toronto.

Maj. Macfarlane was dismissed from his post at the week-end following editorial criticism in the paper of army repatriation policy.

NANAIMO MAN IN CHARGE

Lt.-Col. Geoff Yates of Nanaimo, B.C., Assistant Deputy Director of Canadian Army Public Relations in London, assumed the editorship of the paper Sunday night.

The removal, first on record in the British or Canadian forces in this war, was effected by Lt. Gen. Guy Simonds, commander of Canadian Forces in Netherlands, who said in a statement Sunday night he had no alternative but to do so.

The name of Lieut. Ingraham was dropped from the masthead of today's edition of the paper and Lieut. Ingraham said he has asked to be returned to his unit.

Gen. Simonds' reasons for dismissing Maj. Macfarlane and a statement by the commander giving "the other side" of the repatriation policy were published in today's issue.

Lt.-Col. C. W. Gilchrist of Saint John, N.B., Canadian Public Relations chief of the British Army of the Rhine, called other members of the editorial and composing room staff to a meeting, and reminded them they were soldiers and must do as ordered. But later, half the compositors and make-up crew submitted requests for transfers.

The newspaper had complained of the early return to Canada of men called up under the National Resources Mobilization Act.

KILLED IN ACTION

In a statement following his removal of Maj. Macfarlane, Gen. Simonds revealed that of the total N.R.M.A. personnel who had fought as such, 60 had been killed in action and 192 wounded.

In two successive issues last week the paper criticized repatriation of Canadians called up under the National Resources Mobilization Act. Asking for correction of a situation permitting such personnel in garrison battalions, still non-active and newly-arrived overseas being placed in the 1st Division unit draft for repatriation.

(N.R.M.A. personnel originally were drafted for home service or service in areas adjacent to Canada, but some were sent overseas starting last winter to maintain the flow of reinforcements to the army.)

Gen. Simonds asked Maj. Macfarlane to publish an editorial giving the "other side of the picture" and cease the differentiation between N.R.M.A. and volunteer personnel.

Maj. Macfarlane said he would not authorize such an editorial and added the matter under discussion was not two sides. He said he was willing to publish Gen. Simonds' statement on repatriation in the paper's news columns, but Gen. Simonds was not agreeable.

Gen. Simonds said in a later statement that the paper's contention that N.R.M.A. men should be treated differently from volunteers, for repatriation was wrong both morally and practically.

When the Canadian army was hard-pressed last autumn and spring, N.R.M.A. men were sent over as reinforcements, he said, adding: "I believe the feeling was that if they did their stuff they would be accepted as equal members of this army. They did their stuff and it is morally wrong now that the fighting is over to say they should be treated differently."

Japs at Hongkong Kept Hard at Work

HONGKONG (AP) — Rear-Admiral Cecil J. Harcourt, naval commander-in-chief at Hongkong, said today that 22,000 Japanese prisoners in this British crown colony were being treated "firmly but justly" on a diet of rigorous labor.

He said they were working at clearing up "the filthy messes they left."

Army officers directing the prisoners' labor said the only job they obviously disliked was cleaning a sewer into which they had stuffed dead frames to prevent the escape of Allied prisoners.

The Royal Navy admiral reported that "we have rounded up all the known war criminals we can lay our hands on, but we don't know when their trials will begin—that's a decision to be made by a higher authority."

Answering a question from a Chinese newspaper man, the admiral said he knew of no Chinese-British negotiations over the status of Hongkong, but that "it's bound to come up in peace negotiations." He said military rule of the British colony was necessary until its shipping bottleneck is eased and trade is restored.

Ss. Prince George Gutted By Fire, Reported Total Loss

Fire swept the Ss. Prince George, three funnel C.N.R. veteran of the Pacific coast run, as she lay at berth in Ketchikan, Alaska, Saturday.

She is reported a total loss.

A fireman of the ship's crew was believed trapped in the engine room.

G. A. MacMillan, superintendent, left for Ketchikan Saturday night with W. Jordan to survey the ship. They will report on possible salvage of the vessel.

Dockside witnesses said the fire broke out between numbers 1 and 2 stacks and spread swiftly. The flames were fought for an hour and a half by Ketchikan fire department, the U.S. Coast Guard and crew members as she lay in her berth. Luigi Villanusa, bellman, was overcome by smoke and taken to hospital.

Finally, the 3,372-ton vessel was towed away from Heckman dock by the Canadian tug General Kennedy, after the flames had got beyond control.

U.S. destroyer Annapolis stood by to help fight the blaze and take off crew members and passengers. She was assisted by a Ketchikan fireboat and coast-guard craft.

Later reports said the fire started at 8 in the morning in an engine room. Third officer Percy Smith played a hero's role when awakened by the smoke. He rescued the ship's night baker from an adjoining cabin.

Master of the Prince George is Capt. Neil MacLean. She carried a crew of 100 and 10 passengers. Most lost their clothing, and today the C.N.R. was appealing to members of the crew's families in Vancouver to provide clothing to be shipped up to their men in Ketchikan.

The C.N.R. will now be able to run only one service a week. Prince George's sister ship Ss. Prince Rupert will leave Vancouver every Monday morning at 9, returning there every Saturday at 2 in the afternoon.

Prince George was a steel, twin-screw vessel, 306 feet in length, 42 in breadth and 24 in depth. She was constructed at Newcastle-on-Tyne, Eng., in 1910.

She served in the last war as a hospital ship, based at Esquimalt.

U.S. War Labor Act May Be Repealed As Trouble Looms

WASHINGTON (AP)—Repeal of the Smith-Connally War Labor Disputes Act loomed today as a possible aftermath of C.I.O.-Auto Workers' plans for strike votes by more than a half million members.

The union already has petitioned the U.S. National Labor Relations Board for a vote among 325,000 workers at 96 General Motors plants Oct. 24. It also has announced it will ask for a vote among 120,000 Chrysler workers, probably Oct. 25, and for one to be taken at Ford plants around Nov. 1.

Government reliance on the Smith-Connally Act to prevent or deter strikes practically vanished last winter when John L. Lewis turned its strike vote provisions to his own advantage.

Lewis, in opening negotiations with bituminous coal operators, filed notice that a dispute existed among the 400,000 soft coal miners scattered across the continent.

Taking that ballot, and a later one among anthracite miners, cost the N.L.R.B. about $200,000. Scores of other unions followed Lewis' lead, and the N.L.R.B. was forced to halt operations temporarily for lack of funds.

Prospect of a still larger vote among the General Motors, Ford and Chrysler workers within a week's time seemed certain today to stir Congressional action.

Bayliss presided at the last meeting of the Solarium W.A. when a donation of knitted articles, including nine pairs of socks, four cardigans, six pullovers, was received from the Junior Sisters, Esquimalt Chapter, O.E.S., through Mrs. W. Grimes. Another donation included one child's suit and two sweaters. Other completed garments were two cardigans, three pullovers, two baby jackets and one baby's suit. Garments cut out since the last meeting including 10 suits of pyjamas, 10 pyjama-coats and 36 nighties, have been completed.

New C.P.R. Liners Built When Costs Justify, Says Coleman

MONTREAL — Canadian Pacific Steamships, two-ocean fleet which suffered the greatest loss of any individual company in World War II will be restored when construction costs justify ordering new tonnage, D. C. Coleman, chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, said in an interview following his return from Great Britain.

The rebuilding program already has started, said Mr. Coleman, who is also chairman of Canadian Pacific Steamships, for one fast freight cargo liner, the Beaverdell, was launched last month on the Clyde, where other Beaver ships are on the ways to restore the important London to Canada service in the North Atlantic.

Mr. Coleman did not specify the number of ships to be rebuilt, but was explicit that the Canadian Pacific would again operate in the Atlantic and the Pacific, from which C.P.S.S. vessels steamed to war service in 1939.

(Official Admiralty figures reveal that 11 Canadian Pacific ships of 193,000 tons were sunk by the enemy, ranging from the 42,500-ton Empress of Britain to the 5,875-ton Princess Marguerite of the Victoria-Vancouver-Seattle run.

In addition the Niagara, in which the Canadian Pacific had a half interest, was sunk when she struck an enemy mine.)

BRITISH YARDS GET WORK

New tonnage so far ordered was coming from British yards, Mr. Coleman explained, because it was in replacement of ships operated under British registry. The British government, when it requisitioned—all British-registered shipping, set up a fund supplementing a recoverable insurance to assist shipowners in replacing lost tonnage. Payments out of this fund naturally will only be available for replacement ships built in British yards.

Aside from that it is obvious that Canada is vitally interested in the early and complete economic recovery of her principal customer Great Britain.

GIFT SHIP POSSIBLE

It was doubtful, he felt, if the Canadian Pacific would be disposed to build another Empress of Britain but throughout Britain she seemed to be lamented as though she had been a real person, and he had been told of a movement on foot in that country to construct such a ship and present her to the Canadian Pacific as a mark of admiration for "our service to the Empire during the war."

CANADA'S GREAT EFFORT

In every quarter in the United Kingdom admiration was expressed for the work Canada had done in the war, said Mr. Coleman.

"It was felt that we had handled our wartime financial, price and labor control with good judgment and great efficiency," he said. It was the opinion everywhere in Britain that the everperformance of Canadian industry, under the direction of the Department of Munitions and Supply, had been exceptionally good and that our financial and diplomatic relations with the United Kingdom, the other dominions and with all the United Nations had been governed by a spirit of magnificent generosity from which Canada would reap dividends in goodwill and trade for generations to come.

SAW CLYDE YARDS

In Scotland, Mr. Coleman inspected Fairfields and John Brown's shipyards, whose workmanship on the earlier Canadian Pacific ships he praised highly at the launching of the Beaverdell August 27. There he had conferences with Sir James Lithgow and others in control of the Clyde shipbuilding industry, and also with Lord Weir well-known in Canada as one of Scotland's leading industrialists.

A visit to Newcastle-on-Tyne included an inspection of the shipbuilding works of Swan and Hunter and the works of the Parsons Turbine Company.

King Backs Godbout At Next Election

FREELIGHTSBURG, Que. (CP)—Prime Minister King, speaking to a group of Liberal supporters here Saturday, said he believed a Liberal government would be returned to power in the next Quebec general election and added that Adelard Godbout would be provincial Premier when that time came.

"Mr. Godbout is the right man to have in Quebec, and we want him there," said Mr. King in what was taken to be a reference to reports that Mr. Godbout, former Premier and at present leader of the Liberal Opposition party, would be given a federal position.

Mr. Godbout said later, when questioned about the reports, that "there has not been any offer of such a position, and as far as I know the thing has not even been considered."

Mr. King said he believed defeat of the provincial Liberals 15 months ago could be traced to "a lack of preparedness and a lack of concerted effort." He spoke at a gathering which honored Mr. Godbout on his 53rd birthday.

The Prime Minister, after saying Mr. Godbout was the man the federal Liberals wanted in Quebec, added that "we will see to it that he is returned there in the next election." The statement was taken as an indication that federal Liberal speakers would campaign on behalf of provincial candidates in the next Quebec election. It had been said here after the last election that members of the federal Liberal organization had remained out of the campaigning at the request of leaders of the Quebec organization.

Interment Camp Farm

Expect bumper crop

OTTAWA (CP) — A bumper crop of 1,800 tons of vegetables is expected to be harvested this year on Alberta's "Golden Valley Farm," operated by the Medicine Hat interment-camp a few miles outside Medicine Hat.

An army release said the vegetable farm, 250 acres, is the largest in Alberta and in ability to produce it ranks high anywhere in the Dominion.

Last season, first year the farm was in operation, it produced more than 1,000 tons of vegetables and netted the federal government a profit of $15,000. It has been estimated the work parties.

Winnipeg Insurance Man Killed in Crash

WINNIPEG (CP)—James P. Hamilton, 47, founder of J. P. Hamilton and Company, insurance adjuster, died in a hospital here Sunday from injuries suffered in an automobile accident several hours earlier. Frederick Westmore, 48, of Toronto, suffered head and leg injuries. His condition is reported fair.

Police said their automobile driven by Miss Evelyn Lacroix of Winnipeg got out of control and ran into a hydro light pole. She escaped with cuts and abrasions while her sister, Madeline Lacroix, fourth person in the automobile, suffered only minor bruises.

Ninth Victory Loan Canvass to Open Oct. 22 With New Sales Policy

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Isley announced there will be a change in sales policy with respect to non-individual investors in 9th Victory Loan bonds.

In the case of investors other than individuals, he said, applications for the long-term 3 per cent bonds, in excess of $25,000, will be accepted from those who normally require longer term securities for the investment of savings.

The loan campaign will open Oct. 22 with an objective of $1,500,000,000, the largest ever set in any Canadian war or Victory Loan drive. The objective for individual subscriptions has been set at $800,000,000.

Mr. Isley said two maturities of bonds will be offered, one bearing interest of 3 per cent to mature at 100 in 20 years and 10 months, and the other bearing interest at 1 per cent to mature at 100 in five years.

Applications for the short term bonds will be accepted from every class of investor. Non-individual investors eligible to purchase more than $25,000 in long term bonds will include federal, provincial and municipal governments; life and other insurance companies—unions, pension and benevolent funds, and other savings bodies which invest the collective savings of individuals.

LONG TERM LOANS OPEN TO BUSINESSES

"I would point out that this policy applies only to the sale of 9th Loan bonds by the government to investors at the time of public offering of the new loan," said Mr. Isley. "Subsequently, any business firm which needs long term securities for its investment plans is free to buy 9th Loan 3 per cent bonds or any other issue of government securities in the open market from other investors."

In explaining the reasons for the change in the sales policy with respect to non-individual investors, Mr. Isley said:

"Victory bonds issued during the war were partly long term 3 per cent bonds and partly short term bonds at lower interest rates. The choice between buying long or short term bonds was left to the investor. In practice, individuals confined their purchases almost entirely to long term 3 per cent bonds, while non-individual investors divided their purchases roughly one-third for short term bonds and two-thirds for long term 3 per cent bonds. "Experience over the war period has shown that individuals, as a class, have continued to hold nearly all of the long term 3 per cent bonds they bought at the time of issue. But non-individual investors, particularly business firms and corporations, proved to be more largely short term investors than the division of their applications between short and long term bonds would have indicated."

"However, when there was uncertainty about the length of the war, and therefore about the length of time business firms and corporations could hold reserves in Victory bonds for reconversion and postwar expansion, the government was willing to sell both long and short term bonds to all classes of investors."

Order From Monty Bars Marriages

BRITISH ARMY OF THE RHINE HEADQUARTERS (Reuters)—Field Marshal Montgomery, British commander in Germany, has issued an order that members of the British armed forces will not be permitted to marry Germans, despite reports to the contrary.

(A spokesman for defence headquarters said at Ottawa the order would apply to Canadian occupation forces, who are under Field Marshal Montgomery's overall command.)

He has also ordered that no members of the British forces were to be billeted on German families.

At the same time all present orders about non-fraternization were canceled.

In his order Field Marshal Montgomery said:

"I rely on all members of the armed forces to conduct themselves with dignity, and to use their common sense when dealing with the Germans, twice our ene-

Round-World Hops Scheduled Every Friday U.S. to U.S.

By PAUL MILLER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Regular round-the-world air service, dream of flying men since the Wright brothers first got off the ground at Kitty Hawk, will begin Sept. 28 from the Washington National Airport.

Six and one-quarter days (151 hours) will be required for the 23,147-mile flight scheduled as "The Globe-Trotter." Planes will leave Washington each Friday.

Service will be restricted normally to military personnel, cargo and mail. However, a civilian certified as traveling in the national interest can make the complete flight for $2,431 plus 15 per cent transportation tax.

Later, when the army can get out of the business and planes are made available, U.S. commercial airlines will carry any civilian who wants to go.

BY WAY OF AZORES

Here's the schedule. Washington to New York, to Bermuda, to Santa Maria, the Azores; Casablanca; Tripoli; Cairo; Abadan; Iran; Karachi, India; Calcutta, Lullai (50 miles east of Kunming, China) Manila; Guam; Kwajalein; Johnston Island; Honolulu; San Francisco; Kansas City; Washington.

Longest hop will be from Honolulu to San Francisco—2,399 miles. Longest stops will be four hours at Casablanca, Cairo and Karachi.

Many of the 30-odd passengers will drop off at stations en route. New passengers will be taken on.

Three reporters—Miss Inez Robb of International News Service, Frederick C. Othman of United Press, and the writer, representing the Associated Press—will go along to get a pioneering sample of some of the thrills that other civilians may expect on commercial airlines in the not-too-distant future.

Commons This Week Will Be Asked to Vote $1,365,000,000 War Expenditures

OTTAWA (CP)—Debate on the throne speech is expected to be concluded in the House of Commons early this week and to be followed by presentation of the war expenditures and demobilization bill for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1945.

Conclusion of the debate will be featured by the taking of votes on the Social Credit and Progressive Conservative motions of non-confidence in the government. The C.C.F. Party, which saw its non-confidence motion defeated by 193 to 29 last Thursday, is expected to support the government when the votes are taken, possibly Tuesday.

Once the debating and voting on the throne speech have been concluded, the way will be open for the introduction, the setting up of committees, the study of estimates and for the answering of the many questions which have piled up on the order paper since the opening of the session Sept. 6.

Finance Minister Isley is not yet in a position to announce when the budget will be brought down. However, he has said the war expenditures and demobilization bill would be introduced shortly after the throne speech debate concluded.

The bill will cover expenditures of $3,365,000,000 during the current fiscal year for war, demobilization and mutual aid purposes. Last April the House was asked to authorize war and mutual aid expenditures of $2,000,000,000 for the first five months of this fiscal year. At the opening of the present session, the government gave notice it would ask for $1,365,000,000 for the seven months from Sept. 1 to March 31.

1,144 Canadian Prisoners of Japs Accounted for; 41 Died In Prison Camps

By WILLIAM STEWART

TOKYO (CP)—Records of the Canadian prisoner recovery group showed today 1,144 Canadian prisoners of war have been accounted for and deaths in camps of 41 prisoners have been established.

These figures, incomplete due to a lag in consolidating figures from various areas, show 646 have been evacuated by sea and 115 by air. However, except for possible small groups in southern Japan, all the prisoners are believed to have left Japan for the Marianas or Manila, en route home.

Some 340 other prisoners were taken from Semau Camp at Kowloon, on the Chinese mainland opposite Hongkong, to Manila.

Previous dispatches from Manila said the Canadian force which arrived in Hongkong in November, 1941, to aid in the defence of that British colony was made up of 1,972 men and two nursing sisters, since repatriated.

The Canadian Defence Department has given the size of the Canadian contingent at Hongkong as 1,985 officers and men. The department reported 1,689 were taken prisoner when the colony fell Dec. 25, 1942, several hundred of them subsequently being transferred to camps in Japan.

Prime Minister King told the House of Commons last week that as of Sept. 20 a total of 1,086 Canadian prisoners of war had been officially reported safe in Allied hands in the Far East. All those liberated at Hongkong with the exception of one who was too ill to move, had been evacuated to Manila and Guam on the first leg of their journey home.

A total of 930 Canadians have been officially named as liberated by Defence Headquarters.

British Midget Subs Sank Jap Cruiser At Singapore

CHUNGKING (AP)—Admiral Sir Bruce Fraser, commander-in-chief of the British Pacific Fleet, disclosed today that three British two-man submarines sneaked into Singapore harbor by daylight three weeks before the end of the war, blew up a vessel believed to have been a light cruiser, cut the Singapore-Hongkong marine cable, then made a clean getaway.

The story came out in a routine way at a press conference. When correspondents mentioned the present communication difficulties between Hongkong and Singapore, Admiral Fraser explained how the cable had been knocked out just before the Japanese collapse. Severing of the cable, he said, added to Japan's confusion in its surrender by depriving the enemy of a communication outlet.

Admiral Fraser arrived here Sunday from Hongkong, where his flagship, the battleship Duke of York, is lying. Sunday night he was guest at a dinner given by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek. Other guests included Maj. Gen. Victor Odlum, Canadian ambassador to China.

Fewer Children Stray Since Blunt Tragedy
Vancouver (CP)—Since the death of four-year-old Dianne Blunt, the number of children reported missing at Vancouver police headquarters has dropped off considerably.

"In the past it was not uncommon to have 12 to 20 youngsters reported missing in the course of the day, but lately that number has been cut down to three or four," said Sgt. Fraser Dunlop.

Vancouver to Ottawa Flight Record Smashed

OTTAWA (CP)—A new record for the flight between Vancouver and Ottawa was set Saturday when an R.A.F. Mosquito plane landed at the Rockcliffe airport here just six hours and 33 minutes out of Vancouver's Sea Island Airport, a time which shaved three hours and seven minutes off the previous record.

Piloting the Mosquito was Wing Cmdr. J. R. H. Merfield and accompanying him was Flt. Lt. J. H. Spiers as navigator, the same pair who recently set a trans-Atlantic crossing record in the same ship.

Flt. Lt. Spiers said the Mosquito bucked strong head winds and "with any luck at all, we should have made Ottawa in a little over five hours."

"They certainly gave us a poor forecast in Vancouver," he said. "We had heavy weather for the first 1,700 miles, and the head winds were so strong that we made very slow progress. As a matter of fact, it was the weather we were going to meet, I doubt very much if we would have started at all."

When the Mosquito put down at Rockcliffe, it had only 15 gallons of gasoline left in its tanks, hardly enough to "make another turn around the field."

'GOOD PROGRESS'—BUT!

MOSCOW'S PRAVDA TOLD ITS READers yesterday that the Foreign Ministers of the "Big Five" had made good progress at their London meeting. And, for fuller measure, the newspaper explained how the war—and experience since it ended—had revealed that there were no insuperable obstacles to common accord among the victors.
On what this semi-official journal bases its rosy analysis of the proceedings of this first "peace conference" is of little real importance. Day by day reports, however, particularly those dealing specifically with Russia's demands, or requests, have disclosed very little suggestive that the deliberations will wind up as an unqualified success. But nobody expected miracles; and this is only the beginning of a series of such meetings.

It is well to remember that wishful thinking and honeyed phrases were responsible for a good deal of dangerous optimism during the early days of the war. Before the conflict became global in its scope we had learned much. Eventually we got used to hard, unpalatable fact; months of bad news developed a species of stoicism in us.
We were the better for it. It would nevertheless be manifestly unfair to say the conferences in London had achieved nothing in the last two weeks. For the very fact that they have brought to light so many conflicting views among themselves in respect of the principal issues with which they met to deal is important in itself. And these differences can be turned to good account —proving eventually as surmountable as Pravda would have us believe.

The technique which Foreign Commissar Molotov has applied in London reminds us of the methods he used at San Francisco.
Not that this could be genuinely construed as a serious threat to United Nations accord; rather does it appear as the intention of Moscow to impress the Allied democracies with the indisputable fact that the Soviet Union has emerged from the Second World War as a great and powerful force in international affairs—and, as such, henceforward will have to be reckoned with accordingly. Nor can she be blamed for her assumption. It is because she now enjoys so much power, however, that it is incumbent upon her to retain that position by applying her dearly-won strength to further exertions in the cause of an enduring peace. Even though Mr. Molotov may not have rid himself entirely of that element of suspicion which many of his countrymen still seem to be nursing, its somewhat labored exploitation among friends is scarcely likely to breed mutual trust.

Russia's charge that the western nations,
for example, are the architects of a power bloc against the Soviet Union may be nothing more than another variant of Mr.
Molotov's San Francisco technique—intrinsically a repetition of the demand that Russia be treated with respect and as a trustworthy member of the "Big Five." At the same time, his demands of the other Foreign Ministers at the London conference for a finger in the pie of all territorial adjustment, while obviously disconcerting in their naked appearance, furnish the evidence that Moscow's representative went to the British capital with a very definite policy—knowing what Russia wanted.

To what extent, if at all, Great Britain and the United States had collaborated in advance, whether or not they had prepared their contributions to the debates, is far from clear. This is nevertheless a question to which the public of both nations will require an answer—especially as Pravda has announced "good progress" while, at the same time, accusing western connivance in the revival of the old balance-of-power politics and spheres-of-influence manoeuvre.

SHALL WE SIT BACK?

THERE IS A DOUBLE LESSON FOR Victoria in last week's achievement of stripped-down B-29s in flying from Sapporo, Japan, to Chicago nonstop. It serves to remind this city—which has for years nursed aspirations for a firm spot on the world's air map—that regular trans-Pacific flights, without stop-overs en route, are in the immediate offing. And the fact that caution dictated the landing in Chicago, instead of Washington, indicates quite clearly the value of an intermediary port on this side of the ocean for those aircraft that will be engaged in any future service between the Orient and the inland cities of this continent.

The latter point takes on particular significance to Victoria because this area is singularly endowed with excellent flying weather conditions. This fact is unchallenged; it is also emphasized by Pacific Northwest flying concerns which have done much of the testing in recent years in the skies close to this city. And it is quite true that science is beating the weather hazard as far as aviation is concerned. But where-ever there is a mechanical means of overcoming a natural difficulty, there is also the increased possibility of error in the mechanism and in the human element which controls it. This condition alone imparts

a strong argument to favorable weather as a prerequisite for this region's inclusion on the world's air map.

The speed with which other centres are going ahead with plans to cater to the increased air travel underscores the urgency for positive action here. The flight of the B-29s followed the Great Circle route, passing over Edmonton. While that is reportedly the shortest to the Middle West and Eastern United States, it must, nevertheless, be longer for aircraft with destinations in the Pacific Coast region. To what extent Victoria could draw traffic from that air highway, or from others now much traveled, is a matter for expert opinion.

Nor should the city's potentialities in air freight be overlooked. British and United States manufacturers are giving increasing attention to the development of that speedy method of carrying perishable and semi-perishable commodities. New plane designs are being transformed into finished products for the work in ever-growing volume. When the day returns for heavy shipment of goods between the Orient and Canada, Victoria will undoubtedly resume its important position as a port of call. There, again, geography should assist the city in air development. Cargoes carried cheaply over the ocean by ship, but requiring an element of speed in delivery, could be placed on freighter aircraft here and flown halfway across the continent before the vessel carrying them originally could reach its next stopping place in the Pacific Northwest.

The exploitation of these potentialities, however, depends to a large extent upon progressive action by Victoria. The race for recognition on the air map is highly competitive. This city cannot afford to sit back and hope the rewards of air transport will fall into its lap.

NEWS AND MONOPOLY

TWO ELEMENTS OF MONOPOLY IN
the newspaper field claimed attention today with the announcement from Amsterdam that Maj. J. Douglas Macfarlane, Toronto, had been removed from his post as editor of the northwest Europe edition of the Canadian Army publication, The Maple Leaf, and the statement from Tokyo that Domel agency had been stripped of its special privileges.

Maj. Macfarlane was removed because of his criticism of the manner in which National Resources Mobilization Act troops were being placed in the 1st Division unit draft for repatriation. The action, without explanation, would appear to be a negation of the principles of freedom of the press and would undoubtedly call down the criticism of all who appreciate the importance of the exercise of that right. But the situation takes on a different aspect on the basis of the statement issued by Lt. Gen. Guy Simonds, Commander of the Canadian Forces in the Netherlands, on whose instructions Maj. Macfarlane was relieved of his duties. Lt. Gen. Simonds described his position in the following words:

"I gave him what I considered the other side of the picture and told him he was under an obligation to present these aspects as well as his own personal views in The Maple Leaf. This he refused to do."

If, as other accounts suggested, The Maple Leaf has a virtual monopoly in its particular field of distribution, the stand taken by Lt. Gen. Simonds would appear to be a just one. And the commanding officer's point, that N.R.M.A. troops who did their bit are entitled to the same consideration as any others, should appeal to the fair-minded. Without a rival agency to take issue with Maple Leaf opinion on any major question, there is a very definite responsibility on its editor to see that the picture as a whole is presented. Nor would he seem to serve any good purpose by stirring up strife among the men concerned in repatriation.
If there have been injustices in this regard,
and it would be amazing if such a great task could be undertaken without some anomalies, the editor would be quite entitled to voice objection. But in his particular position it would seem only right for him to give both sides on the controversy where he, alone, has the voice.

On the other side of the world, the directive aimed at removing the Japanese government from control, direct or indirect, of the country's press assumes the significance of another step forward on the march toward democracy. While the ruling clique could dictate policy, there was little hope for the expression of independent thought.
Nor could newspapers deprived of the privileges extended to Domel enjoy anything like the efficiency in coverage extended to that one agency. Despite the fact that news will still be controlled by the occupation authorities, lest it be prejudicial to the cause of peace, the groundwork at least seems to be under way for the establishment of free competitive agencies in the field.

IS THIS ENOUGH

THE BRITISH COLUMBIA MEDICAL Association has reaffirmed its former endorsement of chlorination of water for domestic use. It took this action because of its concern over the revival of anti-chlorination propaganda—a campaign which the association considers inimical to the safety of public health.

Since medical practitioners are the men on whom the bulk of the population depends for cures for illness, is it not logical to heed their advice on matters of prevention? An organization of the dignity and authority of the medical body is surely not one to be ignored in matters concerning health.

Just as we thought. The little Jap had to die rather than surrender; but when the big shots faced the choice, they decided surrender wasn't disgraceful.

WHEN THE KEY IS TURNED

ONE DAY, when the summer at last is dead, you turn the key in the cabin door and leave it there alone in the woods for the winter. You have turned the key on another year and not many more are left. You have turned it on another life and must return to the world which, after the woods, is never worth returning to. In the brief, mute act of turning the key you have accepted the civilized law that no man shall do as he pleases or live as he likes.
You have closed the cabin but imprisoned yourself.

How short the reprieve of summer has been! It is only a few days ago that the maples were budding out and the violets were thrusting their laughing yellow faces up by the brook and you were painting the boats and squaring away for a big summer's work. Now the withered maple leaves are beginning to flutter down, the violets have gone and hardly any of the work has been done. In the woodshed stands a small pile of wood, a bit of new trail has been cut through the swamp and in the workshop a rustic bench lies in pieces not yet assembled when the autumn deadline struck—the poor wreckage of another summer and all its hopes.

THE REST of the year is a monotonous blur with one day hardly to be distinguished from another. But each summer stands out clear in the memory as a high adventure because it is then that you live, and it is for this brief deliverance that the other months are endured. As there are only two months of living in every twelve, man's total life is short, perhaps seven or eight years in all. You won't be turning the key many more times.

Life for the summer camper is telescoped into a brief flash every season and speeded up like a movie which is flickering too fast. Reckoning by his timetable, of two months living in the year, it was only three years ago that the boy in the cabin next door was paddling in the lake and towing a toy sailboat. He commanded a Canadian corvette in the Battle of the Atlantic.
And his brother, who used to annoy us with the sputtering of his speed boat, took a landing craft up to the French beach on invasion day. You may not notice it in the routine of the city but life, when you have time to sit back and look at it, is always recklessly exceeding the speed limit.

NEVERTHELESS, the owner of a cabin can put a brake on this speed. While others are staggering blindly through the indistinguishable days of winter, he can remember his cabin in the woods and rely on it. The cabin will still be there in the spring. Of how many other things, nations, governments, economic theories and men can you say with assurance that they will be there in the spring? Everything else may disappear but the cabin will be there and, though you may desert it and leave it alone to the winds and snows of winter, it is the one friend who will not resent your treatment, who will always be ready to welcome you when the key is turned once more.

The man who owns a cabin, therefore, is filled with a secret hope, unknown to his cabinless neighbor. For most of humanity life offers only the dreary prospect of day piled on day, tomorrow and tomorrow and tomorrow creeping in petty pace unto the last syllable of recorded time, a tale told by an idiot indeed. But for us there is always the assurance of escape next summer a little flame of promise to warm us through the winter while others shudder around their steam radiators, wishing they were dead and hardly realizing that, for all practical purposes, they are already.

WE SHALL GO ABOUT the streets and offices all winter outwardly like other men. We shall show an apparent interest in our work and perform it with reasonable competence. We shall argue at times about political questions and the fate of the world. But only the lesser part of us will be present on these occasions. Our inner life will be elsewhere. We shall be living in the woods though we walk and eat in the city. The higher abilities and all the real labor of our minds will be devoted to some such problem as the construction of a new wharf, and while we may appear to be concerned about the business of the nation and the contents of the next budget, we shall be worrying in fact about a leak in the cabin roof by the chimney. Thus somehow, with this inner vision and the promise of spring's deliverance, we shall hibernate through the winter.

But it is a long time and through all these silent months the cabin will stand alone, containing within its frail walls all the best memories, the highest hopes and the happiest moments of life. The cabin will guard them well and in the spring they will be ready for us and come to instant life when they key is turned again.

SWEDEN'S NEUTRALITY

Tom Twitty in the Montreal Star
The Scandinavians and other interested parties probably will debate for the next two generations neutral Sweden's contribution to the Allied cause during the recently ended European war.

It is a story of 6,000,000 people sympathetic to the Allies and opposed to Nazism, despite historic economic ties. It is also a story about a government which ignored domestic criticism to help the Germans when it was a case of do that or brave the fate of Norway and Denmark. Had not Sweden succeeded in remaining technically neutral to the end, however, her German-occupied neighbors' plight would certainly have been much worse and Finland's eventual recovery from a major political mistake much delayed.

THE INTERNATIONAL SCENE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

This is blue Monday for the Big Five Council of Foreign Ministers who are struggling in London to rehabilitate a Europe which has been pulled to bits and tossed about like a haystack in a whirlwind.

However, I think we must take into consideration that the council is only encountering difficulties which long had been foreseen.
Our hope has been, not that these critical situations could be avoided, but that they would be overcome in due course and that in the end we should have a solid peace. Thus far, while certainly the progress in the Big Five council meeting isn't pleasant reading, there's nothing to cause despair.

In analyzing this situation we must bear in mind not only that Europe has been ripped to pieces politically and economically, but that Russia has emerged as the new and dominant power of the eastern hemisphere. And at the same time two world powers—
Germany and Italy—have been

WANTED A COMB

I would like to pass on to anyone interested the fact that the only request I have ever received of parcels to Britain was for a comb. Such luxuries as soap, knocked out completely, while a third, France, has been dealt a staggering blow.

You can't have such titanic changes without producing temporary chaos. Centres of vacuum have been created, and they will be filled before order is restored.
No wonder then that we find the London News Chronicle saying of the Big Five conference that "the most disturbing part of the sorry situation is the way in which those ghosts of the pre-atomic era—spheres of influence and 'power politics'—stalk the stage."

What makes the situation much more complicated is the fact that the German and Italian spheres of influence—and they are large —have been dumped willy-nilly into the open market. There are bound to be spots where Soviet and British interests clash, and where other interests conflict.
We see that already in the Balkans and in the Mediterranean theatre.

soap flakes, face flannels and handkerchiefs can be pushed into a corner of any parcel packing in with envelopes and flat toilet paper, of which there is a great shortage.

In reading of the anniversary of the R.A.F. in the Battle of Britain, it does not need much deep thought to realize that but for these men and women holding out as they did, we might not here, in this land of plenty, be privileged to be sending gifts to them. And it is certain had we been similarly bombed and drastically rationed as they have for years, they would have denuded their supplies in order to send us gifts of cheer and encouragement.

DISAPPROVING of the resumption of meat rationing, members of Vancouver Island Retail Meat Dealers' Association plan to close their stores next week in protest. They want rationing abolished altogether, claiming it is not necessary and is also wasteful. Victorians will still be able to buy meat in the larger stores, however, as chain stores, including Ray's and Safeway, along with Cross' four markets and the Hudson's Bay plan to keep their meat departments open. David Spencer Ltd. are awaiting further developments before making a decision. R. Cross of Cross Markets said: "The protests are bound to have some effect in modification of rationing, but I think we could accomplish just as much by other means."

What can you Spare that they can Wear?

NATIONAL CLOTHING COLLECTION

For needy and destitute in war-torn lands...

In war-torn countries throughout the world, countless thousands of dazed and destitute people are today without adequate clothing, blankets or footwear. During six horror-filled years of war, the clothes on their backs have been worn to pitiful shreds.

The need is urgent—bitter winter weather is at hand. And the answer to the need lies largely in the clothes closets and attics of Canada—among the serviceable discarded wearing apparel that hangs there, idle and unused.

Look over your family's wardrobe—now! Pick out every garment you can possibly spare—overcoats, suits and dresses, underwear, sweaters and work clothes... anything in usable condition... anything out of date, out of fashion.

There are 125,000,000 men, women and little children in Europe alone who need your help—now! Will you do your share?

"Fur Trimmed"

TAKES ON A NEW MEANING—

Yes, this common term, "Fur Trimmed," takes on a new meaning when you see the new arrivals at Scurrahs. The coats themselves are, of course, up to the usual Scurrah standard of tailoring and finish, and some of the specially selected English wools are simply, softly and subtly lovely. Among the collars, fur linings and Tuxedo fronts are such much admired furs as Beige, Wolf, Persian Lamb, Wallaby, Red and Silver Fox, Lynx, Russian Squirrel and Coon. And don't imagine that because winter is coming you must go into mourning—there are altogether delightful High shades and Pastels that will brighten up the duller days ahead. The moderate prices range from $39.75 to $149.50.

John Turner Takes Vancouver Bride

The marriage was solemnized Saturday evening in West Point Grey United Church, Vancouver, of Elizabeth Mary Seaman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth R. Seaman, 1476 Crown Crescent, Vancouver, and John Arthur Turner, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Turner, 3750 Saanich Road, Victoria. Dr. Douglas H. Telfer read the rites and Mrs. R. Parrott sang "Through the Years."

Wearing a frock of blue grey crepe with grey rose and blue trim and hat in tone, the bride was given away by her father. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink roses, white gladioli blooms and swainsons.

Attending the bride was her sister, Mrs. C. R. Abbott, wearing a dusty rose frock with feather hat of rose and blue, while the bridesmaid, Miss A. L. Hackney, chose a wood violet frock with matching feather hat. Both carried small cascades of pink carnations and swainsons. Fred Kelly supported the groom and ushers were P. Doyle Seaman and R. Thomas.

Following a reception at the bride's home, Mr. and Mrs. Turner left for a honeymoon at Yellow Point, the bride wearing a dark brown suit with luggage tan accessories and a corsage bouquet of gardenias. They will reside in the Wavell Apartments, Vancouver.

At a monthly meeting of the W.A. to Belmont Avenue church, it was decided to provide turkey dinner in the church, Tuesday, Oct. 16, at 6.15. Mrs. G. A. Butler, presided and Mrs. R. Evans conducted the devotional.

Tennis Dance
Draws Crowd

A huge yellow harvest moon, tall cornstalks, bales of hay, and for refreshments, corn on the cob and hot dogs, all added to the out-of-doors atmosphere created for the harvest dance staged in the clubhouse of the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club Saturday night.

It was the last dance of the season, and a big crowd was out to enjoy every minute of it. A party from Bremerton Navy Yard included Surg.-Cmdr. Robinson, Lieut. Ral Stall, Ensign John Hands and Warren McMillan.

Others dancing were Wing-Cmdr. and Mrs. Eric Beardmore, Lieut. and Mrs. Peter Bradford, Lieut. Gilbert Fraser, Mrs. Billy Parr, Major and Mrs. A. Milledge, Mrs. Vera Osler, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Humphreys, Capt. and Mrs. J. E. Moore.

Among the older Victoria Tennis Club members were Miss Peggy Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. W. Dunbar, Mr. Bert Flett, and Miss May Warnock, Mr. Don Campbell and Miss Mary Campbell.

Lieut. Collin Lucas, Mr. Eric McCallum, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Pitkethley, Miss Marjorie Hoey, Miss Naneen Stephens and Miss Rosalind Wharton were also in the happy crowd.

Honor Bride-elect

After the usual weekly choir practice members of the First Baptist Church choir spent the rest of the evening at a social gathering in honor of Miss Betty Matheson, a member whose marriage will take place at the church Saturday evening.

The choir were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Holm, at their home, 1600 Quadra Street.

During the evening, which was given to games, James Dinsmore, president of the choir, on behalf of the choir, presented Miss Matheson with a handsome leather writing case, accompanied by the best wishes of the choir.

Those members present were Mesdames W. H. Foote, N. Duckworth, A. Coles, A. Jackman, C. Lee, C. Moss, J. Pearce, D. Hull, G. Griffin, D. Pearmain, K. Hilton, R. McAdam and C. Scott; Misses S. Atchison, T. Atchison, E. Holm, G. Phillips, L. Shaw, H. Price, M. Muir, M. Morris and T. McGill; Messrs. J. Dinsmore, F. Bradbury, A. Pearson, R. McAdam, A. Jackman, J. Matheson, W. Peddar and S. Newberry. Others present were Rev. George Reynolds and Mrs. Reynolds, R. Coles and O. Stout, organist and conductor.

Hold College Freshette Tea

Mary Francis, Vivian Wylie and Beverley Neely, left to right, get acquainted at the tea given Saturday by members of the Victoria College Students' Council to introduce first-year girls to members of the staff and their fellow students.

Dorothy Dix

Dear Dorothy Dix: I have been corresponding for three years with a boy overseas. We have never seen each other, but we feel that we really know and love each other and that we should become engaged and marry after he comes back. What do you think we should do?

C. R.

Answer: I see no objection to your becoming engaged if you feel that that will add to your happiness, but, for heaven's sake, don't commit the folly of being married by proxy, as a number of romantically inclined youngsters have been doing.

Marriage is not a thing to be entered into sight unseen. On the contrary, you want to put on your strongest spectacles and use a magnifying glass, besides, and observe every flaw and defect as well as the good points in any man with whom you are thinking of tying up for life. And you can't do that with the prospective bridegroom a couple of thousand miles away.

Of course, a man's letters give you some idea of his personality, but it isn't like a close-up, because, somehow, when we write we are all inclined to dramatize ourselves. We have loftier sentiments and a more alluring line than we have in real life. And, above all, we don't show our little peculiarities, as we would if we were face to face.

So don't marry any man until you have looked him over. The way he eats or wears his clothes might disillusion you.

Y.P. Societies

Central Baptist Y.P.S.—Elected to office at the semi-annual elections were: president, Jack Cornock; vice-president, Frank Beaumont; secretary, Eileen Wilkinson; corresponding secretary, Frankie Rowell; treasurer, John Danielson; missionary treasurer, Grace Rowell; pianists, Emma Gower and Frankie Rowell; song leader, Nigel Nixon. Special musical items were enjoyed.

OXYDOL WASHES SO CLEAN
Your biggest wash comes
WHITE WITHOUT BLEACHING

Oxydol is Far Ahead of Other Soaps
in Preventing "Dirty Grayness"

Tests Prove Oxydol Washes Clothes CLEANER and WHITER!

Yes, Whiter! In wash test after wash test—Oxydol proved that it actually washes clothes cleaner and whiter than many other soaps which, unlike Oxydol, fail to get out that last possible trace of stubborn dirt and grime!

White and Bright Wash after Wash! You know, soaps often leave tiny discoloring particles caused by dirt in the clothes and the "hardness" of the water. These impurities stick in the clothes and turn gray or yellow under ironing heat. But Oxydol combats "dirty grayness" in an unusual way. It actually helps prevent grayness particles from forming in the clothes! New "Hustle-Bubble" Suds Lift Dirt Out! Oxydol's new "Hustle-Bubble" suds are so active they lift dirt out. And they work longer, too—long after suds from many other soaps are all tired out. Yes, with Oxydol all your white things—except for unusual stains—come so clean they're White Without Bleaching. Sparkling white!

So Safe for Colors, Too! And Oxydol is so safe—safe for wash colors, rayons and your own precious hands. Its rich, safe suds wash your colored clothes so clean they fairly sparkle! Next washday use Oxydol—and enjoy a wash so clean it's actually White Without Bleaching!

3 Internees Safe

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Keith and their son, Henry George, interned by the Japanese for four years, are now safe, according to a cable received by Mrs. H. G. Keith, mother of Mr. Keith, 785 Island Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith were interned at Kuching, Sarawak. Mr. Keith had been Conservator of Forestry at Sandakan, British North Borneo, for several years. His wife is author of the book, "Land Below the Wind."

Miss Jean Keith, his daughter, lives with her grandmother here, and is awaiting the return of her parents, which the cable suggests may be soon.

Returning Shortly

Lieut. J. L. Shadbolt, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Shadbolt, 841 Richmond Avenue, has arrived back in Canada from England where he was in charge of the Canadian War Artist Group at Canadian Military Headquarters, London, according to a telegram received by his parents.

Lieut. Shadbolt will marry a graduate in fine arts of Toronto University, Miss Doris Meisel, in Ottawa and then will travel to Victoria to spend a few days with his parents. Lieut. and Mrs. Shadbolt will then go to Vancouver, where he will rejoin the staff of the Vancouver Art School, from which he has had 3½ years' leave of absence.

Call Off Election, Build Homes Urges L.P.P. Organizer

The Hart-Maitland Coalition should postpone the provincial general election for six months and endeavor to provide housing for thousands of returned men now desperately in need of homes, Sam Carr, general organizer of the Labor Progressive Party, told a gathering at the Sirocco Hall Sunday night.

He said the L.P.P. proposed that Ottawa should issue $1,000,000 in bonds allocated for 250,000 homes, 25,000 of them in B.C.

"Ottawa now proposes another $1,000,000,000 without interest for Britain," he said. "Why not $1,000,000,000 for Canada?"

Unity of the labor vote was essential to defeat the capitalist coalition parties in B.C., he said.

"The C.C.F. say they can win alone and refuse to join with us," he continued. "We warned them in Alberta last year against splitting the vote. They got two out of 53 seats. We asked them not to go into Quebec. They elected one member who since has joined the Liberals. We warned them in Prince Edward Island but they went in and lost 13 deposits. They have failed to learn the lesson of unity."

"As the situation stands now, the C.C.F. are splitting our vote and we are splitting theirs." Mr. Carr charged the C.C.F. government in Saskatchewan was being pressed by its farmer adherents to adopt anti-labor methods and cited the Leather Products Corp. of Regina, a government-owned shoe factory, as an example where difficulties were being put in the way of shoe-workers to organize.

Victorian in R.A.F. Is Back in England

Flt. Sgt. George Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Robinson, Prospect Lake, has arrived in England after serving 18 months in the Burmese theatre of war, according to word received by his parents.

He enlisted with the R.A.F. seven years ago, took part in the first bombing operations of the war while based aboard the British aircraft carrier Furious, served off the Norwegian coast, in the West Indies and in Arctic regions, and took part in 23 operational flights over Burma and Thailand as a flight engineer.

On one occasion when 1,300 miles from base, a 500-pound bomb dropped through the wing of Flt. Sgt. Robinson's aircraft.

'Y' Directors Meet For Summer Reports

A meeting of Y.M.C.A. directors was held Friday where summer reports of "Y" committees, departments and clubs were presented.

Summer events in the physical department included swimming and sports meets, and figures showed 320 sessions were held by groups within the department, with a total attendance of 5,702. "Y" swimmers took many swimming gala prizes through the season.

Report on the boys' work department stressed shortage of trained leader personnel. Some 124 boys attended Camp Thunderbird, the report stated, while 112 meetings were held by department groups with a total attendance of 2,497.

J. V. Johnson, house committee chairman, urged repainting of the exterior of the "Y" building. He had made a tour of the Victoria building with R. L. Rayburn, Y.M.C.A. architectural bureau, New York, who reported the building "far from modern," Mr. Johnson said.

General report covered war services, public speaking, attendances in the building, and office information. An application for $12,389 had been made to the Community Chest, the finance committee reported, and part of the money would be used for repair work.

He weighed Atoms

Born to a Quaker family in a little thatched cottage in England in 1766, John Dalton acquired enough education at twelve years of age to start a school of his own. He began to take regular weather readings and was noted for his ability to predict the weather. He studied flowers and insects, optics and color-blindness, and finally decided to make chemistry his life work. He noted the constant proportions in which different elements combine with one another, and finally established the atomic theory in chemistry.

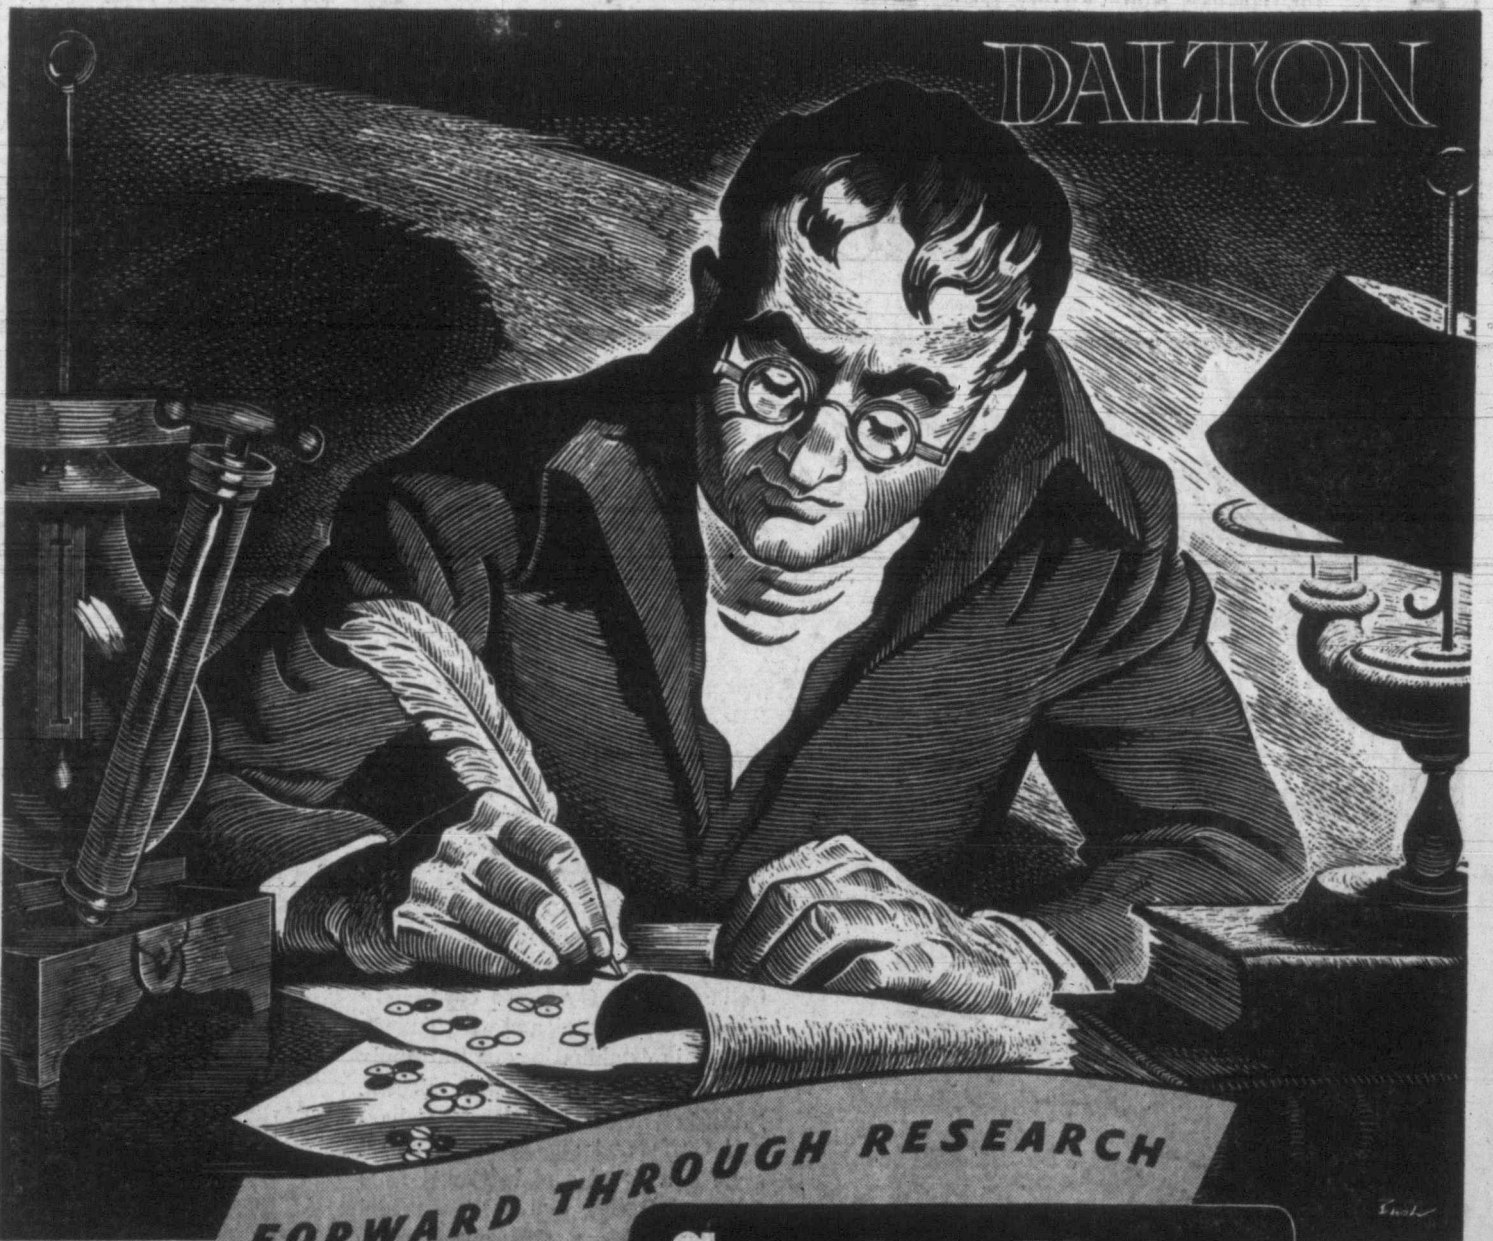

JUST as Dalton's research paved the way for the development of many new and improved materials and products, so research carried out by the Canadian Nickel industry has played its part in developing better materials and products.

Sixty years ago there were practically no uses for Nickel except for Nickel plating, for coinage and for Nickel silver. Today Nickel is required in nearly every industry for making top quality products or for keeping production costs down. The research that has helped to bring this about will be continued in the years to come.

The information collected from the field of metal research by International Nickel scientists is available to Canadian engineers, designers and metallurgists seeking better materials for any product or process.

Research reveals new uses for Nickel. Increased use of Nickel from Canadian mines and plants means employment for Canadians and brings many benefits to Canada.

St. Roch Wintering At Cambridge Bay

R.C.M.P. supply vessel St. Roch has left Coppermine River, under command of sub-inspector H. A. Larsen, en route to Cambridge Bay, 300 miles away where the vessel will spend the winter.

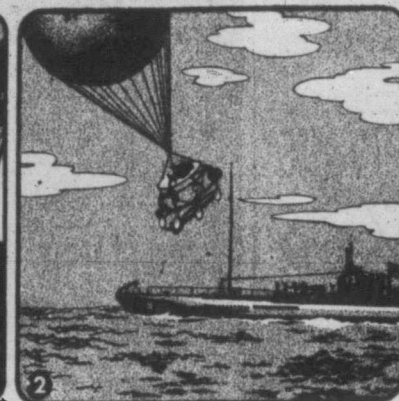

There is a small settlement on the bay made up of an R.C.M.P. post, a Hudson's Bay Company post and a few traders and trappers.

Mrs. Larsen and family live at 1566 Hampshire Road.

The Story of the Atom

1. Skies were clear over Hiroshima when a superfortress dropped the first atomic bomb in warfare, banked for a 270-degree turn and flew away. Smoke, dust and debris from the explosion rose 40,000 feet. The Japanese said the glare of the explosion lasted 10 minutes. The blast knocked out approximately 30 bridges and flattened houses for 10 miles around. So far between 75,000 to 100,000 deaths have occurred as a result.

2. Another bomb was dropped on the naval base at Nagasaki, and superfortresses were ready with others when Japan surrendered. Material and equipment for the bombs had been sent to the Marianas by fast cruisers. Discovery of TNT-loaded balloons probably from Japanese in submarines in Washington state where one of the bomb factories was located, gave rise to the speculation that the Japanese may have heard about the atomic

3. When the story of the atomic bomb was released, Prof. H. D. Smyth of Princeton wrote in a War Department report that a weapon has been developed that is potentially destructive beyond the wildest nightmare of the imagination. It is so ideally suited to sudden unannounced attack that a country's major cities might be destroyed overnight by an ostensibly friendly power. The weapon has not been created by the devilish inspiration of some genius, but by the arduous labors of thousands of normal men and women working for the safety of their country. The Allied governments hope it will be used only for peaceful pursuits and to prevent war in the future. 4. Scientists were fearful atomic bombs might leave dangerous radio-activity in the soil to cause injuries such as X-rays and radium burns. The Japanese reported workmen arriving to clear away debris from Hiroshima two weeks after the bombing, had suffered a change in their blood cells, according to microscope tests. A War Department statement said that "the bomb is detonated in combat at such a height above the ground, as to give the maximum blast against structures, and to disseminate the radioactive products as a cloud."

Developing the Whole of British Columbia!

The Coalition Government is an aggressive Government. It has consistently contributed to the development of the resources of the entire Province.

- The Coalition Government has established a separate Forestry Department and set up the Forestry Commission to place forest products on a sounder economic basis as B.C.'s major industry.
- It has created the B.C. Power Commission to provide power everywhere in the Province, contributing to industrial expansion and increased farm production.
- It is completing the Hope-Princeton Highway to bring the products of the fertile Okanagan closer to their markets.
- It has commenced construction of a six million dollar outlet to the Peace River. This is but a part of the programme to open up the rich north.
- It has set up the Industrial Research Council to promote wider use of our natural resources and expansion of our secondary industries.

TODAY, A GREATER PROGRAMME --- SOUNDLY PLANNED DURING THE WAR YEARS --- IS READY FOR IMMEDIATE ACTION.

Want Pensions Settled On Hospital Discharge

Naval Veterans' Branch, Canadian Legion have endorsed a resolution asking that a ruling be made by the Pension Board to settle pension allowances before veterans are discharged from hospitals or cut off from out-patient allowances.

"It frequently happens now," said the resolution, "that a man being discharged from hospital or being cut off from out-patient allowance waits two or three months before he is granted entitlement to pension and receives payment. In cases where the veteran is suffering severe disability and is not able to find suitable employment, this can prove to be a very embarrassing time."

T.C.A. 21-Passenger Planes To Operate From Victoria

Trans-Canada Airlines today took delivery of the first of a fleet of 10 21-passenger Douglas DC-3 aircraft. It is announced by H. J. Symington, C.M.Y., K.C., president. The second will be delivered in about 10 days and the third by the middle of October. The aircraft will be used on services out of Victoria, greatly increasing the airline's capacity for passengers, mails and express, which has been insufficient to meet the public demand.

The operation of the Lodestars and other Lockheed aircraft which have proven so popular in the services will be continued.

The DC-3's have an overall length of 64 feet, 5 1/2 inches, a maximum height of 17 feet and a wing span of 95 feet. They are low-wing all-metal planes, powered by twin Wright engines. In addition to the 21 passengers and their baggage and a crew of three, each is capable of carrying 800 pounds of cargo and 684 gallons of fuel, at a speed of more than 180 miles an hour.

FORMER TRANSPORTS

The first three aircraft in Trans-Canada's new fleet were used as army personnel transports. To make them suitable for Canadian passenger service and to bring them up to T.C.A. standards of convenience and comfort, they have been refitted. Sports Mirror

(Pete Sallaway is enjoying his annual vacation visiting the hunting and fishing centres on the island. For the next two weeks the Times has been privileged to secure a number of well-known sportsmen to act as guests columnists.)

By LESTER PATRICK

Vice-president of Madison Square Garden Corporation

I AM GOING to take a little trip down memory lane for your good friend and mine, Pete Sallaway. But I am not going to go too far back. I am now entering my 20th season with the New York Rangers. And in many ways, the present situation is quite similar to that experienced by me when I came to New York back in the fall of 1926. The only name players that we had on that first Ranger club were Bill and Bun Cook and Frank Boucher. The balance of our squad were unknown quantities in the professional ranks. We astounded the experts by topping the American Division of the National Hockey League. With the world-wide war now a thing of the past, we again must build our club from scratch. With only a couple of holdover veterans as a nucleus, we are hopeful of having at least some of our stars return from the war fronts to carry on again in the hockey wars.

I AM IN NO POSITION to predict what the season of 1945-46 will bring to our organization for like our first season of 1926-27, we shall have to lean heavily on many of our amateur stars. But hockey fans and writers around the N.H.L. circuit will attest that win, lose or draw, the Rangers are always a fighting club with plenty of color and a keen desire to furnish a crowd-pleasing brand of offensive hockey. That's been the standing policy of the Rangers and there will be no change or deviation from that formula.

BUT IN thinking back to that first year in New York, I can't help but recall the old Victoria Cougars. They won the Stanley Cup from the famed Canadiens in 1925 and almost repeated in 1926 when they were bested by the Montreal Maroons. There were some grand players on that club. Fellows like Frank Fredrickson, Frank Foyston, Jack Walker, Clem Loughlin and "Happy" Holmes. Names that were household words and names that old hockey fans will never forget. Despite the 20 years that have passed since major league hockey prevailed on the coast, I doubt whether better hockey will ever be played than that which was witnessed in the coast cities for some 15 seasons.

THE EQUAL of "Cyclone" Taylor has not yet appeared on the hockey horizon and the thrilling display on occasions too numerous to mention by players like Mickey McKay, "Moose" Johnson, Hughie Lehman and others may have been equalled but never surpassed. Hockey is faster today. There isn't any doubt about that. But the answer is manpower. Maybe we had better pass along from the hockey of other days. But we have pleasant memories.

WHEN I returned to the Big Town a couple of weeks ago, the local baseball fans were quite worked up over the possibilities of all three of our major league entries—Yankees, Giants and Dodgers. However, everybody is about ready to begin plans for next year. The local clubs are not mathematically put but they would have to accomplish the almost impossible to reach out for a pennant. The player who has supplanted Babe Ruth as No. 1 idol of the baseball firmament is none other than Bob Feller, pitching sensation of the Cleveland club. A turnout of over 72,000 fans at Yankee Stadium hailed Feller's first appearance in New York since his return from service overseas. While on the subject of baseball, I took in the second annual All-American Boys' contest which was held at the Polo Grounds. All of these boys are under 18 years of age and are picked by newspapermen from all of the 48 states. There are two groups—East and West. The promotion is undertaken by a national magazine and the net proceeds are distributed to various War Memorials. The eastern group was handled by Babe Ruth and the western lads had the immortal Ty Cobb in their corner. These boys put on a grand show before close to 20,000 fans and at times their play sparked in the manner of professionals.

THE GAME of fisticuffs has been quite popular in the Garden during the summer months. Mike Jacobs has produced some very fine cards and he has been well rewarded with splendid support at the box office. The Graziano-Cochrane clash attracted a $100,000 gate, a shade below the best showing made during the entire 1945 season. Some of the good fighters are getting out from the services so the boxing fans are looking forward to a grand winter season of attractions. I checked up with my good friend, Kerr Petrie, golf writing expert on the New York Herald-Tribune regarding the sensational Byron Nelson. Petrie has covered many of the summer tournaments where Nelson has been leading the boys for the pot of gold at the end of the journey. He says that Nelson "is master of every club in the bag and has not a single weakness. He takes great care of himself and trains hard for all efforts." The boys that go to Brentwood for their fishing, would, I imagine, like to have a try at their luck in this district. The local wizards call it a fisherman's paradise. Surf casting, deep-sea angling, row-boat fishing and bay fishing are all enjoyed. Surf casters whip the beaches for striped bass, weakfish and kingfish. Bluefish, tuna and swordfish keep the game fish anglers busy off shore. Salmon is unknown hereabouts. Well, that's "30" for now. Have a good vacation, Pete.

Douglas Scores Seven As Jokers Take Series

Outplaying their opponents all the way, Roy Woolsey's Jokers captured the intermediate box lacrosse championship of B.C. when they defeated Ladners Saturday by a score of 21 to 10. In the juvenile finals New Westminster trounced Oaklands 14 to 5 to take the British Columbia title.

Doug Fletcher, vice president of the B.C. Lacrosse Association, presented the trophies to Andy Ovcharik, captain of the Jokers and to Harry Preston, captain of the New Westminster squad.

Led by the outstanding marksmanship of Ray Douglas, the Jokers were in complete command from beginning to end. Douglas fired home no less than 7 goals and his team mate Ovcharik starred as a play maker and defence man. Don Swenson and Earl Tamboline scored four goals each to stand out for the losers.

HARD BATTLE

Although the score read 4 to 1 at the end of the first quarter, play was much closer than the score indicated. The Ladners were in on goal many times but their shooting was wild. It was in this period that the 51-year-old goalie of Ladners showed great form to turn aside a dozen sure goals.

The hard-playing Jokers went further to the fore in the second period, outscoring their opponents 5-2. The Joker defence held the Ladner forwards well in hand and when they did get by they had portly goalie Heatherington to reckon with. The score at half time read 9 to 3.

BARRAGE AT WILLIAMS

After the breather the Jokers let loose another barrage of goals at goalie Williams. It was in this period that Ray Douglas staged a one-man scoring bee. Of the six goals scored in this period he snared four, while Ladners were held to a measly two. The visitors made their best effort in the final canto when they held the Jokers even on scoring, both teams scoring six. The Jokers were quite content to let it go at that and when the final buzzer sounded the scoreboard read 21 to 10 for the Jokers.

A great deal of credit goes to coach Roy Woolsey and trainer Wally Smith. They welded an enthusiastic hard-working bunch of athletes into a championship team.

The New Westminster juveniles turned in a fine performance when they defeated Oaklands in their second straight game. Oaklands put up a determined fight but were outclassed by a better organized club. Doug Cameron, coach of the New Westminster team, deserves recognition for his team's display. There is no doubt that from these teams there will come tomorrow's stars. Outstanding of the series was Calhick, who played a fine game of defence and in the last contest scored five goals for New Westminster.

Teams and scoring follow:

Grandmothers In Sport

By ANNETTE SEWRIGHT
It was approximately three years ago that Mill Jealouse joined the bowling fraternity. She was at that time faced with staying home at nights or joining her sports loving husband, Harry Jealouse, so she followed her instincts and joined a bowling league.

Having the required perseverance she made immediate progress, and it wasn't long till she was in demand by the league captains, and was at once dubbed as "our reliable."

She now is a member of the Tenpin League, fivepin mixed, fivepin Ladies' Commercial and the fivepin Spring League. And to top off her sports' bill she is a keen member of the Pacific Lawn Bowling Club, and considered "tops" on the green.

For the last two seasons Mill has been polishing the maples to the tune of 173 to 185, yearly average.

Mrs. Jealouse manages her household expertly and well, and sees no reason why married women should not participate in sports. Having raised a family, and, in fact, being a grandmother now, she knows fully well the responsibilities of a wife and mother, but does not agree that a woman's activities should be continually at home.

Getaway Day at Willows

Be Glory Wins Handicap

Victoria's 1945 race meeting closed out a successful stand at the Willows today. The 14 days saw some of the biggest attendance figures in the history of the sport, which the betting handle showed a marked increase over last season.

Although the association was plagued by a shortage of thoroughbreds, the calibre of racing was high class despite the small fields.

Saturday's program attracted another big turnout with George Holt's Be Glory capturing the feature handicap over six furlongs and 90 yards from the fast closing Winnamucca by a nose. Some Turley was third and the favorite, Bonne Park, fourth.

Roy Allen occupied the riding spotlight by driving in with three winners, Lamb Child and Sandra in the first and second and Seeloe in the seventh. Veteran Ed Spoori inched the riding honors for the meeting for the second straight year. Heading the list from the first day Spoori was never topped. MILL JEALOUSE

Among other bowling women who rate high in this sport are Mrs. William Peden, also a grandmother, who with her husband takes top honors in lawn bowling, and rates fairly high in maple dusting. The Pedens are the parents of Torchy, Doug and Eleanor. Among married couples Mr. and Mrs. George Heath, along with Cecil and Vera Holt, rate highly when it comes to "timber" and bowling 'em over around the 200 mark.

Overseas veterans are likely to play a big part in the reorganization of the Oak Bay Wanderers this season. Ron McConnan, who is well-known in Victoria in English rugby circles, has recently returned from overseas and is ready to start coaching.

Sqdn. Ldr. "Pip" Holmes is ready to play and Capt. Bill Gornall is expected home from overseas next month. Other likely players are Gilmer, Ian Horne, Frank Doherty and Dunc Turner. An organization meeting will be held Wednesday at 8 at the home of P. A. Gibbs, 773 Island Road, Oak Bay.

Workouts at Windsor Park will commence soon if permission for the use of the park is granted by the Oak Bay municipal council.

Montreal Royals To Play Newark Bears

MONTREAL (CP)—The stage is set for the International League play-offs final struggle between the pennant-winning Montreal Royals and the runner-up Newark Bears, with the first game going under the lights in Montreal tonight.

The Royals squeezed into the last act by downing the pesky Baltimore Orioles 4 to 1 Sunday to take the best-of-seven-semifinal round, 4-3. The Bears have been marking time since they ousted third-place Toronto, 4 to 2, in the other bracket last week.

Browns Score Shutout Against Tigers 5-0

Detroit Tigers returned to their annoying habit of backing to the American League pennant Sunday when they suffered a humiliating 5-0 drubbing by the St. Louis Browns.

However, the Tigers now need only a single victory in their remaining four games to clinch a tie, or two triumphs to insure the flag, as the wobbly Washington Senators could do no better than split with the last-place Philadelphia Athletics, losing the first game 4-3 in 12 innings and winning the second game by the same score in eight frames. Darkness curtailed the nightcap.

In the event Detroit wins two of the last four games, the final standings will be:

| | W. | L. | Pct. |
|------------|----|----|------|
| Detroit | 88 | 66 | .571 |
| Washington | 87 | 67 | .565 |

The Tigers meet the Indians twice and the Browns two more times, while the Senators concluded their 1945 schedule with Sunday's twin-bill.

Nels Potter was superb against Detroit, in registering his eighth straight triumph, and his 15th of the year. He handcuffed the Tigers with two hits and gave up but two walks. Paul (Dizzy) Trout, making his fifth appearance in the last nine games for Detroit, was the loser.

The Senators failed to hold a 3 to 0 lead, then with the score tied at 3 to 3, lost the game in the third overtime frame when outfielder George Binks lost an easy fly ball in the sun to set the stage for the winning Philadelphia tally.

After being held scoreless for seven frames, the A's capitalized on a fluke play to tie the score.

CUBS AND CARDS WIN
The National League struggle remained unchanged, as both contenders, the leading Chicago Cubs and runner-up St. Louis Cardinals won their games. The Cubs humbled Pittsburgh 7 to 3 in the first game of a scheduled double-header. The second game was called off on account of darkness.

Andy Pafko's grand-slam homer in the third inning climaxed a six-run outburst against Elwood (Preacher) Roe and sewed up the contest for the Windy City outfit. Hank Wyse gained his 21st triumph.

The Cards hammered four Cincinnati pitchers for a free-scoring 9 to 6 victory over the Reds to remain 1½ games behind the Cubs with six games remaining to seven for the Cubs, who play a twin-bill with the Pirates tomorrow to make up for Saturday's and Sunday's postponements.

Postwar Travel Offers Opportunity to Victoria

By CHAS. A. CLEMENTS

The impression one gets from seeing Europe and talking with the peoples of various countries congregated in London—those who have been there throughout the war and others newly arrived—is that the devastation has been so terrific and the ability and will to make a very rapid recovery is not available to national governments as such. Therefore, we have to rely on local communities analyzing their own particular individual situations and going ahead as best they may.

This will go on until each area touches with the next as transportation and other facilities are developed or extended.

A COUNTRY LANE
By ROBERT CONNELL

EAST FROM LAKE HILL post office runs Reynolds Road, past pleasant homes and gardens, for about a mile, when it meets the old Cedar Hill crossroad, and the broad modern road is exchanged for a real old-fashioned country lane. Forty years ago it was quite a worthy tributary of the old Saanich Road, and it is hard to realize that so it looked to one driving along it in those days.

But now not only have our ideas changed, but actually the road is narrower than it was, at least between fences, for the trees and shrubs that line it on each side have either grown much, or in parts exist where once all was open. It has a delightfully old-fashioned appearance that necessarily endears it to the lover of country walks. Every now and then there are charming glimpses of the distant hills, bathed in the faint mistiness of September, while the softer tones of autumn in the foliage on each side pass gently into the distant landscape.

Of this foliage, oaks contribute the greater and more important part, their dark leafage contrasting with the grey ribbing of the trunks. On each side of the road are dense thickets of mixed shrubbery, in which the fruits of autumn now take the place of the spring and summer flowers. The scarlet rose-hips, the snow-berries, the pale gold crabapples, the black haws of the native thorn, are now at their best under the September sun.

The only flaw is the ragged remnant of a caterpillar's tent that here and there intrudes itself among the branches. The loss of leaves has indeed led, I think, to a greater display of fruit than usual on some crab-apple bushes. Then there are not to be forgotten the glimpses of little homesteads with their gardens and orchards that blend with the general picture.

COWS ROAM WHERE RAILWAY RAN

Where the old Canadian National track crosses the road, it is now taken to the north. The steel and ties are gone, and the long embankment is now marked by a cattle trail, and by rows of seeding thistles that here and there display a late flower-head. A plant or two of chicory also bear odd flowers of their characteristic blue, that earned for the plant the children's name of "blue sailors." In the ditch on the right the dead cat's-ears of summer stand up against the rock, smooth and striated by the glacier ice thousands of years ago.

A great cottonwood and a clump of its relative the aspen poplar, rise above the tall, dense shrubbery that more and more closes in upon the old track. Willows, chiefly the Hooker's and the black, are mixed with hardhack, thorn, crabapple, ninebark, red-barked dogwood, thimbleberry, osoberry and cascara, while here and there are great fruiting patches of escaped blackberry, both cut-leaved and plain.

The trail runs straight on past all these and threads its way through thickets of thistle, and finally is blocked by a low wire fence. A trail to the right, however, leads into a field of grassy hummocks, and soon a pretty little wood of lodgepole pine is reached, against whose dark-green the foliage of tall birch trees is seen. Unlike its usual habit, the western birch does not here exhibit its bark in either the white or the pale phases, and so loses that beauty that is so conspicuous in the Fraser Valley, for example. But its leaves and catkins reveal its identity.

The woodland floor is green with the glossy leaves of the wild lily of the valley but the only flowers are those of the familiar Siberian montia, here with its flowers white and striped with magenta pink. The bushes and trees outside the pine wood, whether by the old railway or by the borders of the field, are not without birds. Chickadees and warblers, song-sparrows and towhees, are busy. The cry of a flicker comes from a treetop, and a hen pheasant rises suddenly.

Lighting Service Resumed By B.C.E.R.

A revival of its commercial lighting service, a popular department of prewar years, was announced today by the B.C. Electric. This department will make available to commercial firms desiring it, advice on interior and exterior lighting.

To carry out this work the company has added two more returned veterans to its payroll, M. I. Hague, Linden Avenue, and Alfred C. F. Evans, Colquitz.

Both Mr. Hague and Mr. Evans have been working with the company on its postwar market survey which is now nearing its end, and have been transferred from the temporary to the permanent staff to put the revived service into operation. They will work under William C. Meares, light and power assistant sales manager.

Mr. Hague and Mr. Evans both returned this year from active duty with the R.C.A.F. The former saw five years' service with the air force, which he left with the rank of pilot-officer. His wife and one child came here during the war years from Edmonton.

Mr. Evans finished two years' active service in May this year, leaving the air force as a sergeant pilot.

No Meat Rush In Victoria As Some Stores Close Doors

With no new developments from Ottawa on meat rationing all independent butchers in Victoria and on Vancouver Island remained closed today in protest against the order.

Arthur Wheelley, secretary of the Vancouver Island Meat Dealers Association of which all striking butchers are members, said today they still had no reply to the telegram sent Thursday to Hon. J. L. Ilsley in which they stated they would close unless meat rationing were rescinded.

Managers of meat departments in Victoria's two department stores, chain shops and two independent dealers which are remaining open, had no increase in business today due to the strike.

"We have had no difference in business," said the manager of a department store meat section. "Of course business is always slow at the beginning of the week. We expect to see a lot more customers in a few days."

Reception Being Planned For Men Freed From Japs

A contingent of 4,700 Canadian and British servicemen, freed from Japanese imprisonment, will reach Esquimalt in October, if plans of Pacific Command army officials carry through. Greater Victoria committees are already busy making plans for the reception.

The servicemen will reach here aboard three of Britain's largest aircraft carriers — H.M.S. Implacable, scheduled to arrive Oct. 11 with 2,100 aboard; H.M.S. Formidable, Oct. 17, with 1,300; and H.M.S. Glorious, Oct. 23, with 1,300.

The three carriers are bound across the Pacific and army officials have suggested that they dock at Esquimalt.

Total number of Canadians eventually expected to reach here is placed at 1,800, while approximately 11,000 British troops will be brought here en route to their homes in Britain.

A further 300 liberated Canadians and British will dock at a U.S. west coast port Oct. 2 and will be transported immediately to Vancouver.

Army officials here said today plans were well in hand. The liberated prisoners of war will be taken to camps at Gordon Head, Work Point and Macaulay Point, where local army personnel will perform camp duties. Entertainment and recreation will be arranged for the British troops.

Col. M. D. Robertson, officer commanding the Prince Albert

if the small shops remained closed.

Manager of a chain store also said no more customers than usual were buying meat. He added that it would be impossible to obtain more help in case of a sudden increase in meat sales.

Final plans for the strike were made by Vancouver Island Retail Meat Dealers at a meeting attended by 35 butchers at the Coast Hardware Hall, Saturday night. Mr. Wheelley reported complete support of the strike from butchers in Nanaimo, Ladysmith, Duncan and Port Alberni.

C. A. Conrad, association chairman, condemned the stand of the Women's Regional Advisory Committee of the Consumer Branch of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. He said the 2,000,000 women it represents were not aware of the butchers' problems. He considered there would have been no need for rationing had women voluntarily cut down their meat requirements.

Volunteers, is touring the camps overseeing preparations for the arrival of the men.

F. E. Winslow, chairman of the Citizens' War Services Committee, has called a meeting Friday evening at 7.15 to discuss plans for reception of the men.

Alderman W. H. Davies, chairman of the Greater Victoria committee for welcoming returned men, said he would be conferring with Mayor Percy George on the matter.

He expected the question of reception of the men would come up at the Wednesday evening meeting of the committee. "We will do everything we can," he said, and added it would be a "gigantic task."

Most of the returning men served in the Malayan and Burma campaigns and have been long imprisoned by the Japanese and are reported in poor health.

Community Chest Campaign Collects One-Third of Fund

The Community Chest campaign for $83,000 which today enters its second and final week is showing signs of lagging but workers at the campaign office are confident that Victorians will net the 20-member agencies down.

Up to Saturday just over one-third of the sum needed had been collected and turned in, $28,888.10, which is almost $1,000 less than the $29,562.70 collected at the same point in the campaign last year.

The special names division, which brought in $3,500 Saturday now has collected $17,282, which is just over a third of their quota of $43,500.

The business division is over last year's collection at this time, having turned in $2,842, or almost half their quota of $5,600.

The residential canvass, despite the continued wet weather is showing a steady gain with $8,103.60 turned in, compared with $7,818.30 last year. The 700 canvassers continue on the job, rain or shine, and it helps make the rain seem a little less dreary when they are met with a smile and a donation rather than a shut door or a curt refusal.

The other divisions have not yet started bringing in any large returns but they are expected to roll in by the end of the week. Public Services division has turned in $74.50, Industrial division $110, hotels $337 and outside $119.

Commenting that the case was the first of its kind that had been before him, Magistrate Hall said that McLennan had had exceptionally good character evidence and that the penalty, although it had to be a jail term, would be moderate.

Canada's Financial Picture Good, Says Imperial Manager

The financial picture in Canada in the near future should be good in every way with the "tremendous backlog of goods and services to be supplied," I. K. Johnston, assistant general manager of the Imperial Bank of Canada, said here today. He is accompanied by A. D. Duncan, superintendent of western branches, Winnipeg.

"In the longer picture, the successful completion of arrangements covering financing of exports by the countries to whom we export is a big factor and one which I believe will be worked out satisfactorily for us," said Mr. Johnston.

"I take an optimistic view of the future; we have come out of this war in a financial position which is remarkably good," he said, referring to Canada's contribution to the war effort in the past six years.

Discussing his tour, Mr. Johnston said that western farmers were in better financial shape than ever before through past good crops and could stand a somewhat lesser crop this year, without having the volume of business on the prairies adversely affected. The crop this year was not of the best, he added.

Of the bank itself, Mr. Johnston said that across Canada it would welcome back some 600 members of its staff who have been on active service.

"The young ladies on the staffs of our banks have made it possible for this bank to carry on its services all across the country," he said.

He spoke briefly of the extensive alterations both to the interior and exterior of the Imperial Bank branch on Government Street and said work would be commenced as soon as a permit was issued by the government. The bank will be enlarged and completely modernized.

J. Holden won the cup with his cruiser Richmond II against six others.

The course was from Cadboro Bay, around Darcy Island, around Little Zero buoy and back to Cadboro.

J. M. Green was officer of the day.

Minimum Wage Revision Planned By Province

Revision of the minimum wage orders now in effect in B.C. to provide a higher floor for salaries should they tend to drop in a possible postwar depression or period of surplus labor will probably be undertaken in British Columbia as soon as the Wartime Labor Relations Order of the Dominion government, under operating for two years, is rescinded.

The wage revision has been necessitated by the soaring during wartime of wages too far in excess of the peacetime minimums as fixed by law.

While it is not necessary now to effect the change, the labor department would like to bring the minimum wages more in line with the wages now being paid. The revision would also prevent employers from slashing salaries should there become a surplus of labor in any particular field.

Two Dates Set For Clothing Collection

The Greater Victoria committee working for the Canadian United Allied Relief Fund on behalf of U.N.R.R.A. formulated plans at a meeting at the Chamber of Commerce today for carrying out the municipalities' part in the national clothing drive.

Raymond Jones was appointed chairman, Major-General R. O. Alexander, vice-chairman; Mrs. E. M. Cuppage, publicity. Present were Mrs. William Blair, for Victoria; Mrs. A. J. Bewley, Oak Bay; Mrs. J. T. Jones, Esquimalt.

W. B. White is chairman for Saanich. Mrs. E. Clayton Peters acted as secretary.

Dates arranged for the collections were: Victoria and Esquimalt, Oct. 6, and Oak Bay, Oct. 14.

With cool weather in most districts and some rain, forest fire fighting costs to the province dropped to less than $3,000 last week. Total cost of forest fire fighting so far this year throughout the province is $279,055, more than double last year's cost at this date and more than 14 times the cost of forest fire fighting during the corresponding period of 1943.

The DOCTOR Says:

ORTHOPEDIC TREATMENT HELP INJURED LIMBS TO HEAL

By WILLIAM A. O'BRIEN, M.D.

A fracture and a break of a bone are the same thing, contrary to popular belief. The outer part of a bone is a hard, calcium-filled shell, while the inner part is filled with soft marrow. Bones are living structures like the rest of the body, and this is the reason they heal when injured.

Blood vessels supply every part of a bone with oxygen and food and carry away waste. Each bone also contains a dense network of nerves which is the cause of the pain when a bone is injured. The young have elastic bones which bend considerably without breaking. When an injury occurs in them, usually only one part of the bone gives way, producing a "green stick" fracture. When great force is applied in children and when older individuals sustain even trivial injuries, complete separation of a bone into several pieces results. In the aged this results from the brittleness of the bones producing a "dry branch" fracture.

When a bone is fractured, the outer covering of periosteum is torn, the hard shell is separated into fragments, and the blood vessels invade the clot carrying with them scavenger cells and young scar cells. In a short time the clot is changed to scar tissue which later fills with calcium. Eventually the periosteum covers the surface and healing is complete. The bone is usually stronger than it was before the injury occurred.

GOOD RESULTS

Good results follow fracture treatment when the separated pieces are brought together and held in the shape of the original bone. Good fracture treatment means good first aid by those who reach the injured victim first. When a broken bone is suspected, the injured part should not be moved without first applying a splint. Do not pull an arm or a leg unless you are certain there is no fracture. Bone present, as a dislocation may be complicated by a fracture and pulling it may increase the severity of the injury.

X-ray examination of injured parts often reveals unsuspected fractures. If they are in good position they are held together and healing occurs. If the ends are not together, the fracture has to be set and a splint or cast applied. In compound fractures the skin is also broken in the injury and danger of infection is great. After a fracture is healed, the limb should be used in the proper way. One of the great orthopedic developments of World War II has been the physical retraining of the injured as exercise and massage help to restore injured limbs to normal function after bones have healed. If a limb is not used properly after the injury has healed, arthritis may develop in the affected joints from unusual stress and strain.

Money Forwarded—Mrs. W. Peden presided at the business meeting of Victoria Women's Institute, held in their rooms recently. A report of Queen Elizabeth Fund showed $700 was forwarded by B.C. Institutes to Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth, for her birthday. South Vancouver Island district conference will be held in Sons of England Hall, Oct. 2 and 3. Mrs. L. Schmelz was appointed official delegate, with Mrs. E. Lorimer, Mrs. G. Sexton and Mrs. G. Brown, Institute delegates. Report of the Solarium garden party was given and bazaar date set for Nov. 2. Working bee will be held in the rooms Tuesday morning and afternoon. Mrs. Cull reported 32 quilts made. Mrs. G. Brown was appointed delegate to the meeting of the National Council for Canadian-Soviet Friendship, Oct. 16.

CUT DOWN ON TAKING LAXATIVES THIS WAY

See How Regular You Can Be Every Morning

Try taking Carter's Pills this way: Start with 3 and set a definite time every morning. When you get regular every morning cut down to 2. After a few days, try 1.

Then try taking Carter's every other day. You may even find you can keep regular without any laxative.

You see, Carter's are so tiny you can cut down the dose—from 3 to 1—to fit the needs of your individual system. Without disappointment.

Carter's help clean out your intestinal tract not harm it, but thoroughly. They are doubly effective because made with two vegetable herbs compounded properly for thorough, easy action.

Thousands can cut down on laxative doing this Carter way. Ask for Carter's Pills by name to get the genuine at any drugstore—25¢. Start the Carter graduated dose method tonight, and jump out of bed tomorrow rarin' to go.

Majority of Canadians Favor Standard Time In Winter Only

By CANADIAN INSTITUTE OF PUBLIC OPINION

TORONTO—If you are an average Canadian you will be satisfied about the return to Standard Time scheduled for next week. If you are an average Canadian farmer, you will be more than just "satisfied." You will be delighted.

Public opinion on the question of Daylight Saving Time is now (as it was during the war) divided into three major groups: those who want it all year 'round; those who want it in the summer-time only, and those who don't want it at all. The difference between public opinion during the war and public opinion today is that, since the end of the war, the number of people who favor "funny time" as an all year 'round proposition has dropped.

In making the current survey, Gallup Poll interviewers asked an accurate sample of adult Canadians this question:

"Which of the following would like to see done about Daylight Saving: (a) Stay on Daylight Saving time the year 'round, as at present (b) Have Daylight Saving time in the summer only, or (c) Go back to Standard Time the year 'round?"

A similar question was asked by the Institute in July, 1943, and in December of 1944. That many Canadians approved of Daylight Saving Time the year 'round as a war measure only is shown by the following table, which reports the division of opinion as found by these three surveys:

| | July, 1943 | Dec. 1944 | Today |
|------------------------|------------|-----------|-------|
| All year 'round | 36% | 35% | 25% |
| Summer only | 36% | 37% | 37% |
| Standard Time all year | 28% | 28% | 38% |
| No opinion | 3 | 4 | 6 |

It will be seen that there is a bloc of the population (36-37 per cent) which for over two years has unchangingly preferred to see Daylight Saving Time in the summer only, and that today this bloc makes up the largest single group.

In its earlier surveys, the Poll went a step further and asked those who favored Daylight Saving all year: "Would you like to see it continued after the war, or just for the duration?" At that time, the big bulk of this group wanted it continued after the war.

Farmers have been consistently the most critical of the Daylight Saving idea and, of course, their influence is proportionately reflected in the above figures. Today, the Poll finds that 59 per cent of the Canadian farmers want Standard Time all year, compared with only 19 per cent of the big-city population who feel this way about it.

With the announced removal of the federal regulation which, as a war measure to save electric power, instituted Daylight Saving as a year 'round feature, the decision will still presumably revert to the individual communities. For this reason, the Institute has separated the opinion of those communities which before the war had Daylight Saving in the summer, from opinion in communities which had only Standard Time. This comparison shows that community preferences still persist, and that, if the decision is left to the communities, the summertime pattern is apt to be much as it was before the war.

Had D.S.T. Didn't Have War
Before War
Year 'round 31% 17%
Summer only 36% 37%
Standard Time all year 28% 28%

Plaza, Oak Bay Shows 'Fifth Chair'

Hollywood reunions, seemingly so inevitable during production of most pictures, were highlighted recently by a get-together which revealed an odd success story concerning its principals: Meeting for the first time in several years were radio favorites Miss Minerva Pious and screen comedian Jerry Colonna. The hand-shaking took place on the set of "The Fifth Chair," Jack H. Skirball's United Artists comedy, starring Fred Allen, now playing at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres.

Studio bystanders were startled to learn that Miss Pious, known to broadcast audiences as "Mrs. Nussbaum" who proposed the incident which brought him to Fred Allen's attention.

The incident, Colonna recalled, happened in 1935 in the N.B.C. studios in New York, while Allen rehearsed a weekly radio program.

Dramatic Story Of Paratroopers

With an all-male cast of "action" performers including Errol Flynn who is starred and William Prince, Henry Hull, George Tobias, Dick Erdman, Warner Anderson and many other capable players, Warner Bros. latest film drama, "Objective Burma," opens today at the Atlas Theatre.

"Objective Burma," is the action-paced saga of parachute shock troops dropped into the dank Burma jungles long before Allied fighters cracked back at the Jap.

'Dorian Gray' Capitol Film

Through the years portraits have often been a key factor in the development of plots of novels, stage plays and motion pictures.

A noteworthy instance in which a portrait is the major motivation can be found in Kipling's "The Light That Failed," story of an artist who worked feverishly to finish a painting under the threat of impending blindness. Then there was RKO's memorable "Love Affair," in which a painting brought the reunion of sweethearts Charles Boyer and Irene Dunne who might never have seen each other again.

The most recent motion picture use of a portrait as a central "character" is the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's picturization of Oscar Wilde's "The Picture of Dorian Gray," which opens today at the Capitol Theatre.

'Make Your Own Bed' Comedy of Errors

With its theme both timely and funny, Warner Bros. newest comedy, "Make Your Own Bed," comes to the Capitol Theatre today. The subject, of course, is the shortage of domestic help so much in evidence since the start of the war. And, to tell their story, the astute Warner Bros. have enlisted the services of a triumvirate of fresh and energetic comedians—namely, Jack Carson, Jane Wyman and Irene Manning. The result promises to be one of the wackiest efforts of the season.

Marc Platt Risks Neck and Limbs

A solo dance number for a motion picture is likely to require both the physical precision of the trained athlete and the daring of a stunt-man.

For his solo specialty in Columbia Pictures' technicolor dramatic musical, "Tonight and Every Night," currently starring Rita Hayworth, Jane Blair and Lee Bowman at the York Theatre, Marc Platt not only uses an entire stage for his number, but he also dances on the eight-inch stage-apron in front of the footlights.

Action Packed Hit Screened at Rio

Scenes of battle never before shown in a Hollywood film will be revealed in "Wing and a Prayer—the Story of Carrier X," the new 20th Century-Fox epic opening today at the Rio Theatre.

Among the "firsts" showing in the picture in which Don Ameche, Dana Andrews and William Eythe are starred is a sequence of a plane crashing off the bow of an aircraft carrier during a take-off, and plunging into the sea. Another shot is that of a plane crashing through the barrier after missing the landing wire.

'Adventure in Music' Dominion Feature

"Adventure in Music" comes to the Dominion Theatre tomorrow for the first time on the screen. The music is played by the world's greatest musicians. Among artists shown at work in this remarkable film are Jose Iturbi, pianist; Vronsky and Babin, duo pianists; Emanuel Feuermann, cellist; Mildred Dilling, harpist, and the Coolidge string quartette.

Byron Nelson Wins Tournament

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—Goldom's big four—Nelson, McSpaden, Hogan and Snead—cut Indian Canyon's par 72 in little pieces and threw the bits to the breeze in the wind-up round of the $10,000 Esmeralda open, with Toledo's Byron Nelson still the king of golf with a 202-64—266 for the 72 holes.

Nelson's 64, its strokes gained mainly on the back nine when he learned that McSpaden was threatening him, tied the course competitive record set in 1941 by Jimmy Clark of Los Angeles in the National Public Links tournament. Half an hour later Sammy Snead of Hot Springs, Va., wiped it off the books with 63.

Harold (Jug) McSpaden of Sanford, Me., rang up a new course competitive mark of 30 for nine holes on the outgoing half and finished in 66, for second place at 273.

Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., closed with 71 to place third with Snead in a tie at 275. Ed Furgol of Detroit was fifth, with 210-68—278, along with Jimmy Hines of Chicago, who blazed home in 65 after starting the fourth 18 at 213.

Top money was worth $1,500 in cash or $2,000 in war bonds to Nelson, boosting his year's winnings to $55,200 in bonds.

McSpaden won $1,333 in bonds today and Hogan and Snead took $900 each.

Nelson, happy as a boy with a new toy, said it was his 17th tournament victory in 12 months and repeated his determination to take a vacation from golf after the swing along the north-west's tall timber trail. The touring professionals play next week in the Portland, Ore., $14,444 open, move then to Tacoma and wind up at Seattle.

H. B. Vigel Heads Duncan Badminton

DUNCAN—H. B. Vigel was elected president of the Duncan Badminton Club at the annual general meeting.

Others elected were: J. B. Creighton, vice-president; Miss V. Harris, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. H. Sunderland, Mrs. B. Blay, Miss Mary Miller, R. Christmas and W. J. Ham, committee.

A committee reported on the question of renting the Agricultural Hall as in previous years, but it was decided that for the present the club would continue to use the United Church hall. Duncan Recreational Centre will be in charge of the hall and when arrangements are made, will put in a new floor. The badminton club will be allowed to rent the hall on certain evenings.

Endorses Coalition

R. D. Harvey, K.C., past first vice-president of the B.C. Progressive Conservative Association, today endorsed the Coalition government.

He said: "Both provincial organizations of Liberal and Progressive Conservative parties have gone on record in support of the Hart-Maitland Coalition government. It is true that this action has not been confirmed by provincial conventions, but who can doubt that the result of a provincial convention of either party would have had any different result. I consider the naming of Independents unprogressive and destructive and only regret that there is no provision under the Provincial Elections Act for a deposit."

Esquimalt C.C.F.'s election funds urgently needed, send to Chas. Jones, 481 Fraser Street, or E. W. Bomford, Shawnigan Lake.

Foil 'Hold-Up' In Big Plant

Recently, in a large industrial plant, a serious "hold-up" was foiled. In this case the hold-up was to vital production—the cause, a leaking valve. Essential machinery had to be stopped until the "packing" in the valve was replaced. But little time was lost, thanks to a Johns-Manville Packing Distributor who keeps a stock of packings for just such emergencies.

These distributors maintain supply depots for Johns-Manville Packings as well as many other requirements for our busy factories. Whenever there's a call for an important part or tool or material, a J-M distributor is ready to furnish it at a moment's notice. Johns-Manville says "hats-off" to its Packing Distributors for the way they are helping industry keep production rolling—in peacetime as in war.

One Woman's Day...

By NANCY HODGES

LABOR AND 'LINGO'

A LABOR Member of the new Parliament in Britain brought a little light diversion into the decorum of its debates the other day.

When he pleaded for someone to invent a new "lingo" that all the nations could understand, something in the form of a simplified English.

He thinks it is the only solution for peace in a world which is threatened by the atom with being blown into atoms.

Dr. Mont Follick is the M.P., and, curiously enough, he already speaks six languages but still isn't satisfied.

SIMPLE ENGLISH.

IN 1938 he invented a system of simple English, containing only 700 fundamental words.

This is 150 less than the Basic English which was so commended by Winston Churchill a couple of years ago.

And Dr. Follick claims that, through the medium of his simple system, he has succeeded in teaching foreigners to speak fluently in two or three months.

Another Labor member, on hear that, asked if he could teach Yorkshiremen?

To which nasty dig-at Yorkshiremen—Dr. Follick retorted that he could even do that.

And the House "rocked with laughter" when he declared he had even taught a deaf and dumb Spaniard to speak his English!

BAFFLING DIALECT

I WONDER if he could teach the anonymous Lancashire lad who mailed me a screed in broad county dialect a few weeks ago? For that "English" certainly baffles me.

But to come back to the Labor M.P. and his crusade. He reminded his fellow-members that the University of London had been left a $100,000 legacy for the purpose of finding a really simple English.

To which he offered to add another $25,000 himself, and asked the government to put up another $25,000.

Whereupon, another member observed: "It is the first time that I have heard any M.P. get up and be willing to back his own ideas with his own money."

Needless to say, the House again roared with laughter.

SHAW'S ALPHABET

I SHOULD have thought the new government had enough troubles on its hands in Britain without worrying about simpler speech.

Unless, of course, the simplification of English might tend to keep down the length of speeches on the floor? And make members say in 20 words for what some of them take 1,000?

But this idea of a simpler language is not a new one. And it always evokes a controversy.

For instance, George Bernard Shaw has left $100,000 in trust for anyone who will make "the English language an economic language."

And he maintains it can't be done except by making the alphabet of 42 letters.

It would be interesting to know what new letters G.B.S. would coin. I wonder if he would include more 'T's?

AGGLUTINATION

MEANTIME, word purists in the United States—and there are many, believe it or not—are shocked by the new trend towards agglutination.

That $64-word, which comes from glue, means the combining of half a dozen good, sound English words into a single misshapen one—without changing their meaning.

For instance, a bill of lading becomes "blading" in the service vernacular. And "duty outside the United States" shrinks to "dutout" in naval parlance.

Josco, jambo, duffy, casu, compool, are others familiar to users of the U.S. naval lexicon, but gibberish to any one else.

As an Eastern paper puts it, Lewis Carroll's "Jabberwocky" seems tame besides this example of agglutination at its worst:

"Twas snafu and the duffy soine
Did josco-jambo in cincepac;
All temfly were the flatrums moine
And the compool comescarpae."

LAW AND LANGUAGE

I DON'T KNOW about simpler English, but the law might also learn a lesson in the economy of words.

As anyone who has occasion to fight his way through a morass of "whereases" and "hereinafters" well knows.

J. E. Laneley in his book "The Devil of Names," says that, if, according to law a man wanted to give you an orange he couldn't do it as simply as that.

You wouldn't get the orange unless it were accomplished thus:

"I hereby transfer to you, all and singular, my estate and interest, right, title, claim and advantage of and in that orange, with all the kind, skin, juice, pulp and pipe, and all right and advantage therein, with full power to bite, cut, suck, or otherwise eat the same, or give the same away, as fully and effectually as I, A. B., am now entitled to bite, cut, suck or otherwise eat the said orange, or give the same away, with or without its kind, skin, juice, pulp or pipe; anything heretofore or hereafter in any other deed or deeds, instruments or of whatever nature or kind, to the contrary in any wise notwithstanding."

INFLATIONARY STATE

IT HAS BEEN suggested that our language is suffering from a wild deflation—expanding vocabularies but shrinking ideas.

Perhaps Talleyrand was right when he said speech was given to man to disguise his thoughts. And some of the disguises are pretty effective these days!

After all, the yodel in the village school may have had the right idea.

The teacher, somewhere in the north of England, had been trying hard to eradicate local errors of speech. Passing around his class, which was in the throes of composition, he paused beside the boy.

"You marked a word with his pencil and said, 'You know what's wrong with that, don't you?'"

At which the lad brightly remarked: Yes, sir. I've putten 'putten' where I should 'ave putten 'put'."
